

Debora Steffen

Debora Steffen is the laboratory manager for the Discovery Learning Research Center. She manages both the Science/Project Labs in the Learning Research Center and the CASPiE (Center for Authentic Science Practice in Education) remote instrumentation network. Debora worked in industry for 7 years as an analytical chemist and taught at Ivy Tech in Lafayette as an adjunct instructor. She earned her Ph.D. from Purdue University in analytical chemistry and her B.S. in chemistry from the University of Alaska, Fairbanks.