

Michael Kurek Ph.D, MBA, Partner, Biotechnology Business Consultants LLC

For the past 20 years, Dr. Kurek has held senior management positions in marketing, sales and business development for a number of life science companies — two of which completed successful initial public stock offerings on the NASDAQ exchange. Kurek also was vice president of business development at the Michigan Center for High Technology, where he was responsible for the business incubator program that served more than 50 startup technology companies.

During his career, Kurek has demonstrated success on an international scale in defining new product opportunities, developing sales and marketing strategies, and recruiting and managing teams to deliver growth. He holds a Ph.D. in genetics from Florida State University and an MBA from Boston University. Kurek joined Biotechnology Business Consultants in 2001 as a principal consultant.
