Professor / Associate Professor #003102-2014

Associate or Full Professor: Purdue University invites nominations and applications for tenured position (full or associate rank) in the Department of Human Development and Family Studies; Ph.D. or equivalent required. The position is intended for a scholar who focuses on developmental and/or family processes. It is desirable to connect to one or more research concentrations in the department (i.e., Culture & Diversity, Early Childhood Education and Care, Health and Wellbeing, Interpersonal Relations, and Military Families). Primary responsibilities include research, obtaining external funding for research, teaching, and contributions to outreach and service activities. The appointment is to begin in August 2016 or a mutually-agreed upon date.

Applicants should have an exceptional record of research productivity, including grants and publications reporting original research in leading journals, an international reputation, and evidence of excellence in teaching or engagement. Exceptional candidates may be considered for appointment as the newly endowed Ben and Maxine Miller Professorship. We strongly encourage applications from minority scholars. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Human Development and Family Studies includes 18 faculty members who emphasize contextual perspectives in the study of children, youth, adults and families. It is located in the College of Health and Human Sciences. Department resources include the Center for Families, Military Family Research Institute, Cooperative Extension Service, and the Miller Child Development Laboratory School. HDFS is very productive, generating almost 8 million dollars in new grant funding last year. For further information: http://www.purdue.edu/hhs/hdfs

Nominations, applications, and correspondence should be directed to Department of Human Development and Family Studies, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN 47907-2055. Applications should include a cover letter outlining your qualifications, vita, and representative publications in PDF format via e-mail to: HDFS-Faculty-Search@purdue.edu. Questions may be directed to either of the search co-chairs; Dr. James Elicker (e-mail: elickerj@purdue.edu) or Dr. German Posada (e-mail: gposada@purdue.edu).

A background check will be required for employment in this position. Purdue University is an EEO/AA action employer fully committed to achieving a diverse workforce. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.
