Business Job Title: Environmental Health and Safety Intern

Job Summary:

The Environment Health & Safety Intern is responsible to establish, promote, and maintain safe working programs and practices to identify, recommend, and implement measures that reduce health and accident hazards. This includes carrying out assigned tasks that maintain compliance with safety and environmental regulatory statutes and permit obligations of the company.

Job Responsibilities:

Safety

- Track, review, and develop of Environmental, Health and Safety Programs.
- Interface with regulatory bodies as needed.
- Develop, implement, execute, and manage strategies to prevent workplace injuries and environmental incidents.
- Perform risk assessments, the impact of behavioral safety measures, Industrial Hygiene methods.
- Review/audit training records and handbooks.
- Leak detection inspections for solvent waste system.

Environmental

- Perform environmental inspections as assigned.
- Review and develop waste determinations for laboratory.

Job Requirements:

- Working towards EHS or other technical related degree: Junior or Senior status of Bachelor’s degree program or equivalent.
- Coursework in ergonomic/human factors, environmental management, OSHA/regulations, and/or chemical management.
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office; Word, Excel, PowerPoint including Share Point.
- Good presentation, speaking, organizational, and problem solving skills.
- Excellent written communication skills and ability to document technical information in an easy to understand and straightforward manner.

Contact Information:

If you are interested in a 10 to 12 week internship this summer at Lilly Biotechnology Center – San Diego, CA, please email your cover letter and resume to Laura Boyd, Consultant Human Resources at boyd_laura_w@lilly.com. Please write “2018 EHS Intern Applicant” in the subject line, no later than April 30, 2018.