Background

Beginning January 1, 2014, the Affordable Care Act – commonly known as Health Care Reform – required everyone to have health care insurance or pay a fine. You can get the required insurance through an employer plan (such as Purdue’s plans for benefits-eligible faculty and staff, or a spouse’s employer plan), through a government program (such as Medicare or Medicaid) or through coverage you buy on your own.

To help those who are looking to buy insurance on their own, the government’s Health Insurance Marketplace will connect people to the health coverage “exchanges” available in their area. Employers are required to provide the attached notice to all employees (including those who are not eligible for benefits) to make them aware of their Marketplace options.

Benefits-eligible Purdue faculty and staff: What this means for you

- Because Purdue’s medical plans are considered affordable and meet minimum value under Health Care Reform, employees who are eligible for the Purdue medical plans will not generally receive a break on premium or out-of-pocket costs through the Marketplace. This likely makes the plans offered through Purdue a better value for benefits-eligible employees than plans offered through the Marketplace.
- If you will have medical coverage through Purdue, you are not required to take any action related to this notice.
- The information in this notice has nothing to do with your Purdue medical insurance enrollment. Benefits open enrollment for your Purdue medical options will take place, as usual.
- You can learn more now about medical plan options through the Purdue Benefits website at www.purdue.edu/benefits.

For additional information

- All employees may visit Purdue’s Health Care Reform Web page at www.purdue.edu/hr/Benefits/Medical/healthCareReform.html for information and related links.
- Benefits-eligible faculty and staff may contact the Purdue Human Resources Service Center at 765-494-2222 or hr@purdue.edu.
PART A: General Information

When key parts of the health care law take effect in 2014, there will be a new way to buy health insurance: the Health Insurance Marketplace. To assist you as you evaluate options for you and your family, this notice provides some basic information about the new Marketplace and employment-based health coverage offered by your employer.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?
The Marketplace is designed to help you find health insurance that meets your needs and fits your budget. The Marketplace offers "one-stop shopping" to find and compare private health insurance options. You may also be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that lowers your monthly premium right away. Open enrollment for health insurance coverage through the Marketplace begins in October 2013 for coverage starting as early as January 1, 2014.

Can I Save Money on my Health Insurance Premiums in the Marketplace?
You may qualify to save money and lower your monthly premium, but only if your employer does not offer coverage, or offers coverage that doesn't meet certain standards. The savings on your premium that you're eligible for depends on your household income.

Does Employer Health Coverage Affect Eligibility for Premium Savings through the Marketplace?
Yes. If you have an offer of health coverage from your employer that meets certain standards, you will not be eligible for a tax credit through the Marketplace and may wish to enroll in your employer's health plan. However, you may be eligible for a tax credit that lowers your monthly premium, or a reduction in certain cost-sharing if your employer does not offer coverage to you at all or does not offer coverage that meets certain standards. If the cost of a plan from your employer that would cover you (and not any other members of your family) is more than 9.5% of your household income for the year, or if the coverage your employer provides does not meet the "minimum value" standard set by the Affordable Care Act, you may be eligible for a tax credit.\(^1\)

Note: If you purchase a health plan through the Marketplace instead of accepting health coverage offered by your employer, then you may lose the employer contribution (if any) to the employer-offered coverage. Also, this employer contribution – as well as your employee contribution to employer-offered coverage – is often excluded from income for Federal and State income tax purposes. Your payments for coverage through the Marketplace are made on an after-tax basis.

How Can I Get More Information?
For more information about your coverage offered by your employer, please check your summary plan description or contact the Purdue Human Resources Service Center at 765-494-2222 or hr@purdue.edu.

The Marketplace can help you evaluate your coverage options, including your eligibility for coverage through the Marketplace and its cost. Please visit HealthCare.gov for more information, including an online application for health insurance coverage and contact information for a Health Insurance Marketplace in your area.

\(^1\) An employer-sponsored health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs.
PART B: Information About Health Coverage Offered by Your Employer

This section contains information about any health coverage offered by your employer. If you decide to complete an application for coverage in the Marketplace, you will be asked to provide this information. This information is numbered to correspond to the Marketplace application.

Here is some basic information about health coverage offered by this employer:

☑ As your employer, we offer a health plan to some employees. Eligible employees are:
  - A tenured, tenure track, or clinical/professional faculty member employed half-time or more on a continuing basis for more than one year.
  - A visiting faculty member employed full-time for a semester or longer.
  - A management/professional staff member employed half-time or more on a continuing basis for more than one year.
  - A post doctoral research associate or assistant, or veterinary intern employed full-time for six months or longer.
  - An administrative/professional staff member, extension educator or continuing lecturer employed half-time or more on a continuing basis for more than one year.
  - A clerical or service staff member employed half-time or more on a continuing basis for more than one year.
  - Operations/technical assistant staff members employed half-time or more on a continuing basis for more than one year.

☑ With respect to dependents, we do offer coverage. Eligible dependents are:
  - Your legal spouse, so long as he or she is not covered as an employee under this plan. When a person is no longer your legal spouse, that person no longer qualifies as your eligible dependent. Separated spouses are still considered married.
  - Your same-sex domestic partner (SSDP). When a person is no longer your same-sex domestic partner, that person no longer qualifies as your eligible dependent.
  - Each dependent child (as defined by the IRS) until that child reaches his or her 26th birthday; IRS dependency is not required. Health savings accounts associated with Purdue medical plans allow dependent child reimbursement only up to age 24.

☑ If checked, this coverage meets the minimum value standard, and the cost of this coverage to you is intended to be affordable, based on employee wages.2

NOTE: Even if your employer intends your coverage to be affordable, you may still be eligible for a premium discount through the Marketplace. The Marketplace will use your household income, along with other factors, to determine whether you may be eligible for a premium discount. If, for example, your wages vary from week to week (perhaps you are an hourly employee or you work on a commission basis), if you are newly employed mid-year, or if you have other income losses, you may still qualify for a premium discount.

If you decide to shop for coverage in the Marketplace, HealthCare.gov will guide you through the process.
