   Wednesday, November 19
   Film Screening & Discussion: The Normal Heart
   7:00 pm | Fowler Hall, STEW
   This drama tells the story of the onset of the HIV-AIDS crisis in New York City in the early 1980s, taking an unflinching look at the nation's sexual politics as gay activists and their allies in the medical community fight to expose the truth about the burgeoning epidemic to a city and nation in denial. A facilitated discussion will follow the film.

7. Research Opportunity for Undergraduates Committed to the Health of Native American Communities

Application Deadline: February 9, 2015

An exciting summer research opportunity at Brigham and Women’s Hospital (BWH) and Harvard Medical School (HMS) for undergraduate students with a commitment to the health of Native American communities. Since 1994, The Four Directions Summer Research Program (FDSRP) has brought over 170 students to Boston during this time.

Recipients will spend 8 weeks engaging in basic, clinical or translational research projects under the supervision of BWH faculty advisors. As well as conducting research, students will also receive professional development training, meet faculty from across the hospital and medical school, and participate in social networking events.

FDSRP will cover students’ travel costs to and from Boston, provide housing free of charge, and give them a stipend for the summer.

This is a great opportunity for students to train in the HMS environment. The application deadline is February 9, 2015 and students will be notified of their selection in early March, 2015.
Please visit our website at fdsrp.partners.org for more information and to view the application. For questions contact FourDirections@partners.org or call (617) 525-8356.
