PROGRAMS, INTERNSHIPS, EMPLOYMENT

Growing Leaders Spring Internship Program
Application Deadline: October 1

Every spring, summer, and fall semester, Growing Leaders accepts a select group of students and recent graduates from across the United States to intern at our office in Atlanta, Georgia.
Fast-paced, challenging, and rewarding, the Growing Leaders Internship Program gives students a chance to work alongside Dr. Tim Elmore and our team as we bring leadership principles to students all over the world.

Some of the highlights of our internship program include:

- Traveling with our team to events across the nation.
- Honing networking skills.
- Learning how to work in a fun, fast-pace office environment.
- Receiving mentorship from Dr. Tim Elmore and the team.
- Impacting others by helping students around the world realize their leadership potential.

Quest for the West Art Show and Sale
Opening Weekend Kicks off September 9 - 10 | Eiteljorg Museum, Indianapolis, IN

The Eiteljorg Museum is busy getting ready for opening weekend activities for the 11th annual Quest for the West® Art Show and Sale. New artwork created by today's top Western artists will be available for purchase during a "luck of the draw" sale on Saturday, September 10. Art not purchased during the sale will be available for purchase during the Quest exhibition which will be open to the general public from September 11 - October 9.

To register for Quest, please click here. You can also preview art by clicking here. If you aren't able to attend, you can still register as an absentee buyer and purchase art from afar. Please contact our development coordinator, Kay Hinds at 317.275.1341 or khinds@eiteljorg.com.

Eiteljorg Museum Blog - Learn more about each Quest artist. We're featuring an artist everyday on our blog and social media channels leading up to the opening of the exhibition.
