WELCOME RECEPTION HONORING MARLENE LONGBOTTOM

Join us in welcoming Visiting Scholar, Marlene Longbottom, to campus as part of a three-week residency program. Longbottom is a Research Fellow with the Australian Health Services Research Institute (AHSRI), University of Wollongong, Australia. Meet and mingle with Longbottom and enjoy light refreshments with us. This program is in collaboration with the Honors College.

Monday, October 16
4:00 - 6:00 pm • NAECC

Marlene Longbottom is from Roseby Park Mission (Jemirja), a former government reserve established in 1902 as part of the NSW Aboriginal Protection Act. She is from the Yuin Nation of the Dharawal and Dhurga language groups of the South Coast of New South Wales. Her research background has been implementing community based participatory research through critical Indigenous feminism and more recently, critical race theory and intersectionality as it applies to Aboriginal Australians.

Reporting Bias Against Murdered and Missing Indigenous People: Our Voices Matter

Tuesday, October 24 | 6:00 – 7:30 pm | KRCH 270

Reports concerning violence against Indigenous people are often wrought with misinformation, bias, racism, or callousness. Moving the conversation forward, challenging language and raising awareness and visibility concerning violence against Indigenous people is an issue all must be invested in to end disparity. Invited speakers: Terese Mailhot, Tecumseh Post Doc Fellow; Toni Jensen, Author and Assistant Professor of English, University of Arkansas; Marlene Longbottom, NAECC/Honors College Visiting Scholar. This event is held in collaboration with the DTA Four Directions Initiative and the Native American Indigenous Studies Program.
