HEALTHY PURDUE 2009 (ALL CAMPUSES)

What is the purpose of Healthy Purdue?
Healthy Purdue is aimed at protecting the health and productivity of Purdue faculty and staff through prevention, containing health care costs through health promotion, and leading in research and education.

Is my information kept private?
HRS WorkLife Programs has a strong commitment to privacy. The confidentiality and security of your data are very important. Scores from the wellness screening and health questionnaire are not added to any Purdue employee files and do not have any impact on job status.

What’s new for Healthy Purdue in 2009?
Instead of two levels of participation as in 2008, there is just one. Participants complete a wellness screening, HPQ, and four apples to earn a $200 medical plan premium reduction ($400 with employee AND spouse/same-sex domestic partner participation) in 2010. The $200 will be paid incrementally on the employee’s pay during 2010. Employees who leave Purdue or retire before the end of 2010 will not receive the full $200 medical plan premium reduction.

Other changes include:

1. Earn four apples this year instead of five. We have combined the three self-reporting apples into two.
2. The HealthPath Questionnaire (HPQ) is available from February 2 through November 20, 2009, allowing participants more time to complete it this year than last year.
3. Participation dates are January 1 through November 20, 2009.

Why is Healthy Purdue changing?

After three years of programming, Healthy Purdue is moving into a new phase for 2009.

The first three years of the program rewarded faculty and staff for completing a wellness screening and health questionnaire, and then upped the reward for those meeting specified criteria to earn Healthy Purdue apples. Healthy Purdue 2009 emphasizes putting knowledge into action by combining these important activities as the means for earning a reward.

As in the past, faculty and staff are encouraged to get a wellness screening and complete the HealthPath Questionnaire, but the reward – both to health and to the pocketbook – comes in marrying the knowledge gained through these activities to a healthy lifestyle.

Benefits-eligible faculty and staff completing a screening, the HealthPath Questionnaire, and four Healthy Purdue apples during 2009 will receive a $200 medical plan premium reduction in 2010. Spouses and same-sex domestic partners of benefits-eligible employees can also earn the $200 medical plan premium reduction by completing these activities.

While Healthy Purdue has always maintained that good health is its own reward, the $200 medical plan premium reduction brings attention to the effect an individual’s healthier lifestyle can have on the entire Purdue community by helping to keep health care costs in line.

Healthier employees, spouses, and same-sex domestic partners on Purdue’s medical plans should have a positive effect on claims. In turn, these plan participants will be rewarded for their efforts with a reduced medical plan premium.

Purdue has made significant strides toward building a healthy culture during the past three years. Many people will tell you that they know their health status and they know what they should be doing, but putting this knowledge into action is what often proves difficult. This new phase of Healthy Purdue aims at giving faculty and staff a nudge in the right direction.

An added bonus to the 2009 arrangement is that participants will have greater flexibility as to when they complete the HealthPath Questionnaire. Because participants no longer need to complete the HealthPath Questionnaire before earning apples, they can take the HPQ anytime up to November 20.
ELIGIBILITY (ALL CAMPUSES)

Who is eligible to take part in Healthy Purdue 2009?
Benefit-eligible faculty, staff, and retirees, long-term disability participants, and spouses/same-sex domestic partners can take part. Graduate staff are not eligible to participate.

Benefit-eligible faculty and staff, LTD participants, and their spouses/same-sex domestic partners are eligible for the $200 medical plan premium reduction.

I’m a new employee. Can I participate?

Are graduate staff eligible for Healthy Purdue 2009?

APPLES (ALL CAMPUSES)

What are the apples for 2009?
In 2009, there are six apples to choose from:

Blue – StayWell Health Coaching. StayWell Health Management provides health coaching through the “Next Steps” program. Coaching is available after you complete the HPQ. Select a topic based on your questionnaire results. Coaching can be done by phone or by mail.

White – StayWell Online Healthy Living Programs. Available on StayWell’s Web site, this six-module interactive program offers weekly online activities. Choose one health topic and complete the six modules and an assessment to earn a white apple.

Purple – Behavior and Lifestyle Change Programs. Programs help you develop skills and make behavior or lifestyle changes. They meet regularly over six to 14 weeks or for a minimum of six hours. In 2009, you may earn one purple apple toward your four. There are three ways to complete a program:

- Campus offerings (in person or online/e-mail based)
- Community alternative
- Training alternative

Red – Health Awareness. This category is for health topic presentations of about 45-60 minutes. You may earn one red apple toward your four for the year. There are four ways to earn a red apple.

- Campus offerings
- Purdue’s online offerings
- StayWell online education centers (complete three for one red apple)
- Community alternative

Yellow – Health Care/Counseling/Preventive Screenings. Completion of this apple, which is self-tracked, involves either:
• Meeting with your health care provider or counselor to discuss one aspect of your HPQ results, such as mental well-being, stress, weight, cholesterol, blood pressure, or tobacco use, or
• Completing all recommended screenings for your age and gender, as suggested in your HPQ results.

Orange – Self-Report. This self-tracked apple is earned by doing one of these activities for six months in 2009:

• Avoiding tobacco products
• Eating five fruits and vegetables most days of the week
• Exercising for 30 minutes most days of the week
• Doing weekly relaxation activities
  (for example, yoga, tai chi, deep breathing)

Can I do all four red apples, or do I need to do different colored apples?

• It does look like the red apples would be pretty easy to complete. But in order to complete the four apples necessary to earn the $200 medical plan premium reduction in 2010, you will only receive credit for one red apple.
• Look for different colors to complete your four apples.

MEDICAL PLAN PREMIUM REDUCTION (ALL CAMPUSES)
I want to make sure I understand the structure of Healthy Purdue 2009, concerning the HealthPath Questionnaire (HPQ) and the apples. My husband and I both completed a wellness screening. If I complete the HPQ and four apples, I receive a $200 medical plan premium reduction off my 2010 premium. Since my husband is covered by my insurance, if he does the same, will that mean an additional $200 premium reduction in 2010? And does this replace last year's incentives (the $150 for the screening and HPQ, and the $250 for completing five apples)?

Correct. Completing the HPQ and four apples as part of Healthy Purdue 2009 will earn an employee a $200 medical plan premium reduction in 2010. If the employee's spouse/same-sex domestic partner also completes the requirements, that would mean a total of $400 in medical plan premium reductions in 2010. The $200 medical plan premium reduction replaces all incentives offered in previous years.

I have completed my wellness screening, HealthPath Questionnaire, and my four apples. When will I get my medical plan premium reduction for 2010?

- The $200 medical plan premium reduction will be paid in 2010. The $200 will be applied incrementally on the employee’s pay during the year. Employees who leave Purdue or retire before the end of 2010, will not receive the full amount of $200.
- The $200 medical plan premium reduction for spouses/same-sex domestic partners will be applied to the employee’s pay incrementally during the year.

FORMS (All Campuses)

What forms do I need?

Spouse Verification Form – Faculty and staff who have a spouse/same-sex domestic partner who does not work at Purdue will need to complete the Spouse Verification Form if their spouse/same-sex domestic partner will be participating in Healthy Purdue 2009. This form is to be filled out every year to confirm spouse/same-sex domestic partner information. In 2009, this form is online in the “Check My Apples” section.

Wellness Screening Form – Participants who see their health care provider to get their wellness screening completed use this form to document their screening values. Participants keep this form for their records and use it when filling out the HealthPath Questionnaire. This form is located on the Healthy Purdue Web site. Click on “Forms”.

Training Alternative Form – If you train for and compete in a qualifying exercise event use this form as an alternative way to earn the purple apple. The form is located on the Healthy Purdue Web site. Click on “Forms”. If not sure if the exercise event you are doing qualifies, be certain to contact your campus program to find out.

Community Alternative Form – If you take part in health-related offerings from other campus programs, hospitals, fitness centers, or community organizations, you may receive credit for a purple or red apple, depending on the specifics of the offering. Before participating, contact your campus program to review the details and receive approval for the alternative. If approved, campus program staff will mail the form to you.

Medical Alternative Form – Participants who are unable to earn the apples due to a medical condition may develop an alternative way to qualify. Contact your campus program to discuss. If approved, campus program staff will mail the form to you.
