Hello! I am a staff therapist at Purdue. My background is a licensed marriage and family therapist. Before coming here, I worked at another university. My passion is working with minority students and engaging in conversations related to cultural diversity. I am an activist for social justice. My ethnic background is Chinese. I moved here last September and love working here.

Casiana Warfield, MS
Hello all! I am looking forward to supporting you and being a part of your community this semester! I am currently a predoctoral psychology intern at Counseling and Psychological Services as I finish my doctorate in Clinical Psychology from Eastern Michigan University. I have been working in college mental health for the last three [years] focusing on multiculturalism and acceptance coping, and love the academic environment. I am biracial, Asian and White, and grew up in Indianapolis cherishing my Filipino heritage and negotiating my multiracial identity within many primarily Euro-American institutions. My goals for this semester are to learn more about your needs and identify how CAPS can support you as students and people.

Abrar Hammoud

Abrar Hammoud is a Clinical Assistant Professor in Purdue Polytechnic’s Department of Technology Leadership & Innovation. She teaches project and problem-based design through approaches that blend and transcend traditional academic disciplines. She is also highly involved in the Polytechnic’s innovative teaching and learning initiatives and transformation initiatives.

Her research interests include processes of resilience as communicated through meaningful work, in addition to narratives of failure expressed via visual, artistic, and technical mediums, and their impact on failure tolerance and creativity. Through this blend of topics, she believes that students will engage in both art and technology with a deeper understanding of the impact they have in their lives and in the lives of others.

Abrar believes it is education which provides the opportunity to escape societal expectations and that who we are is defined by what we are willing to struggle for. A priority of hers is helping students explore their natural curiosity. She believes the question “What do you want to do?” isn’t the right one to ask, especially of young adults. Rather, students should consider the question “What are you willing to struggle for?” A person who wants to launch their own business has to be willing to invest time, money, and resources with no promise of return on those investments. A writer has to be willing to endure criticism and rejection, often time and time again. A person wanting to cultivate meaningful relationships has to be willing to sacrifice and to withstand vulnerability.

She considers education a means of empowerment, an opportunity for exchange, and essential to the necessary preparation for life’s worthwhile struggles and adversities.

Diversity & Inclusion - Cultural Center Events

Panel Discussion: Religion, Polarization, and the Public Space
(Part of Programmatic Theme "Democracy, Civility, and Freedom of Expression)
Wednesday, February 19, 2020
Time: 6 - 7:30 PM
Location: Loeb Playhouse

This panel will discuss the role of religion in the pursuit of democracy, civility and the freedom of expression and the challenges posed by increasing polarization in public discourse as it relates to religious identity and expression. A religiously diverse panel of well-known public intellectuals will explore this topic and others via conversation and contemplation. A free general admissions ticket is required and can be reserved here.

On the panel are:

- Arun Gandhi, President of the Gandhi Worldwide Education Institute and grandson of Mahatma Gandhi
Sarah Hurwitz, American speechwriter who served President Barack Obama and First Lady Michelle Obama, and author of Here All Along: A Reintroduction to Judaism.

Ron Reagan, Contributor to MSNBC, former radio host and commentator who identifies as an atheist; son of late President Ronald Reagan

Reza Aslan, Iranian American scholar of Religious Studies, writer and television host

Rev. Naomi Tutu, Reverend, activist and daughter of Archbishop Desmond Tutu

Amy Goodman (moderator), Host and Executive Producer of Democracy Now!

The Division of Diversity and Inclusion (DDI) is introducing a programmatic theme for 2020: Democracy, Civility, and Freedom of Expression. Throughout the spring semester, students, faculty, staff, alumni and community members are invited to engage in conversations about and consider the importance of each element of the theme. Activities and events will include interactive workshops, inspiring performances, high-impact public speakers, and innovative conversational gatherings.

To see the list of events, please click here.

The DDI is looking for students to volunteer for their events.

“Ohayō (Bom Dia): Recording the Voiceless Voices of Japanese Immigrants to Brazil in Ishikawa Tatsuzō’s Sōbō”
Tuesday, February 18, 2020
Time: 3 - 4 PM
Location: Stanley Coulter 239

In 1930, aspiring author Ishikawa Tatsuzō accompanied a ship of Japanese immigrants to Brazil in order to observe the hardships experienced by agricultural workers and their families abroad. He portrayed their journey in The People (Sōbō, 1935), the most famous account of Japanese immigration to Brazil. Released in three parts, the last section of The People poignantly frames the powerless position of its subjects via its title, “People Without Voices.” While the phrase foregrounds the inability of immigrants to give voice to their own experiences, throughout The People, Ishikawa endeavors to make audible exactly that which is impossible to hear—the voices of the voiceless. He does this by recording the nuances of their spoken language as faithfully as possible, including dialects of Japanese from rural provinces, as well as the Luso-Japanese pidgin that begins to develop on Brazilian plantations.

Asian American Studies Colloquium
"The First Americans: Mixed Race Koreans from Camptowns to America" by Dr. Yuri Doolan
Wednesday, February 19, 2020
Time: 11- 12:30 PM
Location: RAWLS 3058
Lunch Provided

Professor Yuri Doolan is a historian of race and empire in the twentieth century United States and an interdisciplinary scholar of Asian American Studies, transnational Korean Studies, and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. In this talk, Dr. Doolan tells the powerful story of how Americans created and used the concept of the "American" to remove nearly 5,000 mixed race children from US-occupied South Korea to adoptive American homes during the 1950s and 1960s.

SEASSI has been providing intensive language instruction since 1983 in Burmese, Filipino, Hmong, Indonesian, Javanese, Khmer, Lao, Thai, and Vietnamese. All language courses offered by SEASSI are for credit, and financial aid is available!

This summer’s SEASSI program will be hosted by the University of Wisconsin-Madison from June 15 through August 7, 2020.

Applications for the 2020 SEASSI program are now being accepted online via our website.

If you would like additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us at seassi@seasia.wisc.edu, or visit our website.

Testimonial from a Purdue University student:
I attended SEASSI in 2017 to learn Beginner Vietnamese. This program provides great language immersion and opportunities to interact with teachers from all over the world. You also get to meet language learners from all aspects of life with various reasons for wanting to learn a language. SEASSI also sponsors events including picnics, film showings, and guest speakers from any of the SEASSI languages. I will also add: Madison, WI in the summer is beautiful.
