

Fall 2020 Academic Course Guide

Updated: 03/25/2020

The following is a list of courses for the Fall 2020 semester that cover various Asian, Asian American, international, multicultural, and/or diversity-related topics in their course content. Cross-listed courses are listed multiple times for each course number assigned. Please be aware that all course information is subject to change and students should be in contact with departments and/or instructors in order to ensure the most up-to-date information. Students should also be in contact with academic advisors to verify course credits and other relevant academic information, including any pre-requisite courses.

In addition to these courses, we also strongly encourage students to be in contact with academic departments and advisors in order to determine whether courses such as “Special Topics,” “Directed Reading,” or “Independent Study” can also be used to focus on Asian and Asian American content.

If there is a course you would like to add to this list, please email AAARCC@purdue.edu with all the relevant course information.
