Review of the Week

On Thursday, September 28th, the AAARCC invited Dr. Louis Tay, William C. Byham Professor of Industrial-Organizational Psychology (Department of Psychological Sciences) as the speaker for the Lunch & Learn Series. His talk, titled, "Well-Being in Graduate School and Academia" emphasized the importance of advocating for our well-being while being aware of the well-being of others by finding and creating supportive communities. This talk was co-sponsored by the Department of Psychological Sciences.

Even though days are getting cooler, the AAARCC garden still continues to provide us with fresh vegetables to share with our campus community. In this picture, three students are holding gold beets harvest from this season. Thank you, Purdue Student Farm and student organization the Gardening Club for collaborative efforts in maintaining the garden.

The gardening club meets every Friday at 5 pm at the AAARCC to cook, talk about foodways, and enjoy time with each other. Please consider following them on Instagram @purdue_garden to get to know their programming.
