Additional Notes

1. Flexible space allocations may be included in a 1:100 office to the sharing ratios included for an individual position status. This may help to accommodate specific program-related needs or to adapt from guidelines to existing space without modifications.
2. Although graduate students may be considered campus first, a seat sharing ratio of 2 students per desk is applied. This may help to accommodate certain programmatic needs or to adapt from guidelines to existing space without modifications.
3. The NASF number generated without circulation is the maximum allowable office ASF (excluding departmental circulation). Any departmental circulation (exclusive of lobby/administrative spaces that total this amount can be adjusted from the table above as determined appropriate during programming.
4. The NASF number generated without collaboration includes a ratio reduction (see below), for plugging spaces that did the amount can be adjusted from the table above as determined appropriate during programming.
5. Twenty percent (20%) of total space is considered mobility space.
