Performing with the “All-American” Marching Band, the Golduster dance team provides high-level choreography for halftime and gameday performances, as well as exhibition shows and competitions.
Purdue University’s Golduster team performs a diverse range of styles for each halftime ranging from jazz and popular rock tunes to Broadway and ballet. Members choreograph new high-energy routines for each show.

As members of the “All-American” Marching Band, Goldusters receive 2 hours of course credit for participation in fall and spring semester activities. A new performance is choreographed for every home football game. Activities include:

- Duster Days: TBD
- Band Camp: August 13-18, 2017
- Fall Semester Rehearsals: Monday through Friday 3:30-5:30 pm
- Spring Semester Rehearsals: 4 hours per week
- All Purdue home football games
- One Purdue away football game
- Travel to Purdue football bowl games
- Indianapolis 500 Parade and race day activities
- Campus and community performance opportunities
- Multiple Purdue Men’s and Women's Basketball games and other Purdue athletic events

During spring semester, the Golduster team competes and performs as an exhibition squad for competitions and performances throughout the community and the state.

Participants must audition every year, even if they are returning to the team.
