HANDBOOK

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

FOREWORD

This booklet is an addendum to the “All-American” Bands and Orchestras General Information Handbook. It is not intended as a replacement for that handbook, but as an additional resource for members of the “All-American” Marching Band containing information of a nature that is applicable specifically to the marching band.

It is assumed that all marching band members will have read the General Information Handbook, as it contains important information on matters such as membership and enrollment, rehearsal and performance procedures, equipment, attendance and grading, administrative organization, and awards. Specific policy matters that directly affect the membership of the marching band are discussed in the General Information Handbook, and all members will be expected to be familiar with such information.

The “All-American” Marching Band Handbook includes a list of marching band fundamentals, information on reading charts, and specific discussions of special policy matters that affect only the marching band. A thorough understanding of this information along with the general information provided in the regular handbook will enable you to function as a knowledgeable, contributing member of the “All-American” Marching Band.

Membership in the “All-American” Marching Band is an honor and a privilege, and makes you a member of a unique musical organization with over 130 years of service to Purdue University. Your commitment and dedication to the traditions and service of the marching band will insure the continuing role of this organization as the major force in building and maintaining a love and spirit “for the honor of old Purdue”!

I. MISSION STATEMENTS

PURDUE DEPARTMENT OF BANDS MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of Purdue University Bands is to encourage a lifelong love for music and the arts, teach students through music performance, and develop leadership and life skills.

THE MISSION OF THE PURDUE UNIVERSITY “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND

We

Uphold a tradition of excellence,
Develop scholars and leaders,
Entertain, connect, and inspire.

Purdue University All-American Band – Mission Statement Definitions

Uphold a tradition of excellence

The goal of the Purdue University All-American Marching Band is to give students the skills and knowledge to appreciate and enjoy music as a lifetime avocation and to instill in them a desire to strive for excellence in all that they pursue. Just as Purdue has many traditions, so does the marching band. We: March military style; Have our band cheers; Feature solo twirlers; Have celebration rituals with each Big Ten victory; Play for our coach and the football team in the end zone after each game; Have the world’s biggest bass drum, “The BBD”; and have traditions within each section of the band. These traditions are who we are, what make this band stand out, and make us last throughout all time.

Develop scholars and leaders

Striving for excellence is the common theme in our mission. In everything that follows, whether it is entertaining, serving, or bringing joy, each is the result of excellence. When we step onto the practice field, march into Ross-Ade Stadium, or push through exhaustion to play our final fountain concert, quality, precision, and perfection are our goals, and excellence is achieved.

Entertain, Connect, and Inspire

Entertainment is a must for this activity. Whether we perform for fans at concerts around Purdue University, or we travel abroad and perform for other schools and communities, we must be entertaining. The Golden Girl twirling, the BBD spinning, and the incredible block formations with our dazzling chair step: this is entertainment!

Whether we are marching in Ross-Ade Stadium, traveling with the football team, practicing at the drill field or simply wearing a Purdue Band tee- shirt to class, we represent Purdue. How we act in class and on the drill field displays the pride that we feel in the "All-American" Marching Band. We are ambassadors of tradition, music, and friendship: all the time, everyday.

What we do heightens the experience at any event. When we play, our music revives the memories of Purdue Alumni, makes the student section create a deafening roar, and pushes the football team to another first down. The joy that this band brings gets you out of bed on an early Saturday morning when you could otherwise be sleeping. The goose bumps you get when you merely anticipate the march into Ross-Ade Stadium send shivers of excitement down your body. The thrill you feel when you go out on the field in front of thousands of fans; these are just a couple of things that make what we do fun and keeps us coming back year after year.

PURDUE DEPARTMENT OF BANDS DIVERSITY STATEMENT

Purdue University is committed to maintaining a community which recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters tolerance, sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among its members; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Purdue University prohibits discrimination against any member of the University community on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or ancestry, genetic information, marital status, parental status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, disability, or status as a veteran.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

The faculty and staff of the Department of Bands & Orchestras are fully committed to these ideals and regulations, and expect every participant and volunteer in our program to embrace them as well.

II. HISTORY

The history of the AAMB dates back to 1886 and a five-member organization attached to military training. An 1896 reorganization brought the number to fifteen, and by 1900 the band was attracting positive reviews at football and baseball game performances. The early bands were led by student directors, and from those ranks came the first permanent director of the band, Paul Spotts Emrick. While still a student director, Emrick established one of many “firsts” for the Purdue Band, a block “P” formation, marking the first time any college band had broken from its basic military ranks to form a picture. During his 49-year tenure with the band, Emrick, a demanding taskmaster, continued to build the reputation of the band, setting many records along the way. The World’s Largest Bass Drum, the annual Indianapolis 500 performance, the addition of majorettes, and even the “All-American” title date back to the Emrick era.

The task of following Emrick upon his retirement in 1954 fell to Al G. Wright, then a high school band director in Miami, Florida. Unlike Emrick with his strict military approach, Wright was a showman, and his band shows reflected the best of the show band style. Wright designed the current style of the band uniform, added more majorettes, introduced the featured solo twirlers - the Golden Girl, the Girl in Black, and the Silver Twins - and created the “I Am an American” flag presentation. The Flag Corps and Goldusters also debuted during the Wright era. Under Wright, the band traveled extensively, making numerous bowl appearances, performing at Radio City Music Hall in New York, and visiting such international destinations as Columbia, Venezuela, Quebec, and the Netherlands. Wright maintained the tough disciplinary standards, all the while seeing the band increase to nearly 400 students, the largest in the Big Ten and one of the largest in the country.

When Wright reached retirement age in 1981, J. Richard Dunscomb was named Director of Bands. In a change from the previous tradition, Dunscomb decided not to take the position of marching band director, and Dr. William C. Moffit was hired to fill the position. Moffit brought along his popular “Patterns of Motion” drill design technique and the dynamic “Soundpower” approach to musical scoring. His additions to the band include the Fanfare Trumpets, the giant American and Indiana flags used at pregame, and a double block “P” formation. The present uniforms were first worn in 1985 during the Moffit era. Moffit, a talented showman in his own right, maintained the standards and traditions of the band developed over the previous 90 years and, as the program turned 100 years old, he brought the band an increased local visibility.

The 1988 season was a challenging one for the band, marked by the late retirement of Moffit and the naming of Joseph Manfredo as interim director of the marching band shortly before the start of the season. Joe approached the difficult task with his usual enthusiasm, and brought the band into modern times with the addition of a more contemporary percussion section and the utilization of the latest in drill writing techniques. Charts were prepared for the band on a computerized program that had been developed under Professor Manfredo’s guidance, and a new spirit and desire for excellence became the trademark of the band.

The addition of Dr. David Leppla to the staff for the 1989 season, in combination with veteran director Bill Kisinger, guaranteed a continuation of the great traditions of the “All-American” Marching band with continued efforts to put the band on the “cutting edge” of contemporary show design. The establishment of the post-game “fountain concert” was a highlight of the season. With the addition of a Graduate Assistantship in 1991 as well as the return of a full-time Assistant Director, the staff finally was back to full strength. During his tenure, Dr. Leppla traveled with the band to Singapore at the Chingay Procession, and to Venezuela for an unprecedented eighth performance at the St. Sebastian Festival in 1997. Perhaps the most significant accomplishment of the band during the Leppla era was in 1995, when the Purdue Band became one of the elite college marching bands to receive the coveted Sudler Trophy.

The spring of 2006 brought about the retirements of both Dave Leppla and Bill Kisinger. At this time, Purdue appointed Professor Jay Gephart Director of Bands and director of the “All-American” Marching Band. Professor Gephart serves as the fifth director of this internationally famous band. The “All-American” Marching Band has performed at the Champs Sports Bowl, the Detroit Motor City Bowl, the Heart of Dallas Bowl, and the “Meet in Beijing” Fine Arts Festival under Professor Gephart's leadership. In 2009, the band received an invitation to perform in the November 2010 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City which kicked off the 125th anniversary celebration of Purdue Bands. In 2013, the band made a critically acclaimed appearance in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Dublin Ireland, returning in 2018 for a similar trip. The AAMB returned to South America in 2015 to perform at the Festival of the Flowers in Medellin, Colombia. As this era in Purdue Band history continues, the band will continue to strive to be the "best damn band in the land"!

III. AAMB STUDENT LEADERSHIP TEAM

An organization as large and complex as the Department of Bands and Orchestra must depend heavily on student involvement in the day-to-day operation of the department. Student leadership is also an important aspect of the marching band. Specific positions have been created to help cover the unique requirements of a marching band for specific types of student leadership. The available positions and the requirements for selection are listed below.

Drum Major

The AAMB uses two drum majors in most seasons, with occasional additions or subtractions. The drum majors are an integral part of the student leadership team in the marching band. Drum Majors serve in that position for one season at a time. These positions are declared open each spring, and all interested candidates must audition for the positions regardless of previous standing as drum majors. The Marching Band Staff also reserves the right to require participation of the Drum Majors in summer clinics or leadership seminars as deemed necessary by the staff.

Their function:

- Serve as student staff for all sections during rehearsals and performances.
- Be responsible to the Director, and work with him in leading rehearsals and performances.
- Serve as a representative of the band, the staff, and the university to the public
- Lead by example in all areas of marching, musicianship, and character.
- Provide effective game day management.

Auditions occur each spring semester. Interested students must be enrolled at Purdue, have been a member of the AAMB for at least one year, and be registered for Band 11000 for the following fall semester. Candidates must be in satisfactory academic standing with the university. All students petitioning for the drum major position will also complete an application. Additional information is available from the administrative assistant in the band office. The Drum Majors are required to participate in the Indy 500 activities for the school year they serve in that position.

Section Leader/Segment Leader

Section leaders are responsible for a particular instrumental section of the band. Segment leaders are needed when similar instrument types require a student leader proficient in their specific instrument such as drumline and saxophones.

This responsibility includes:

- Training the section in the content and execution of the marching fundamentals, rehearsing music, warming up the section prior to every rehearsal.
- Maintaining proper rehearsal discipline.
- Setting a proper example of rehearsal preparedness as outlined in the “general procedures” section below.
- Understanding all policies as stated in the general information handbook and the AAMB handbook.
- Maintaining high standards of performance and “esprit de corps” in the section.
- Serving as the spokesperson for the entire section.
- Assisting the director or designee in making personnel decisions in the section as well as policy decisions that will affect the entire band.
- Reporting accurate section attendance to the appropriate staff member at each rehearsal and performance.
- Serving as a “1” for a rank in their section.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

Students interested in the position of Section Leader will submit an application for the next year at the end of the marching band season. Candidates must have been a member of the AAMB for at least one season, must be in good academic standing with the university, and must be enrolled in Band 11000 for the following fall semester. Section members will be asked to rank the top four individuals in their section at the end of the season to assist the faculty and staff in selecting section leaders during the spring semester.

“1’s” and “10’s”

The band is divided into ten-member ranks and an additional Game Day Staff member (defined below). Within each rank, one individual will be named as a “1.” This individual is the primary resource for educating and maintaining proper marching band etiquette in his or her rank. Section leaders will serve in a “1” position, and be in charge of the other rank leaders within their section. A “10” (assistant rank leader) will be selected by the faculty in cooperation with the Section Leader and Rank Leaders. The process for selecting Rank Leaders will be the same as described above for Section Leaders. Prior to the upcoming season’s band camp, those selected as student leaders are required to attend a two-day training camp, unless they have an unavoidable conflict the directors are aware of.

IV. MEMBERSHIP, ATTENDANCE, AND GRADING

Membership

- Membership in the “All-American” Marching Band is open to any student enrolled at Purdue University including those who are non-degree-seeking students as defined by Purdue University. Students must be registered for Band 11000 in order to be members of the AAMB.
- All instrumentalists are auditioned to determine both their marching and playing ability.
- Music auditions are conducted prior to camp for new Purdue students and at band camp for returning students and ALL drumline candidates. Marching auditions take place during the week-long Marching Band Camp, which is scheduled for the week prior to the start of school.
- Auxiliary group membership is determined by an audition designed to evaluate the basic ability of a candidate to perform routines in various styles required by the respective group.
- All auxiliary positions are auditioned in the spring prior to the season.
- All members and candidates for membership are required to be in attendance at Marching Band Camp unless specifically excused by the Marching Band Director. Such excuses will be granted only for the most serious of situations, and only after a conference between the student and Director.

The total membership in the AAMB will include approximately 380 students.

The Position of Game Day Staff

The position of Game Day Staff exists to allow for the filling of an ill, tardy, or otherwise absent marching band member for a game day performance. The assignment is evaluated on a weekly basis, and it is hoped that everyone will have the opportunity to perform on the field sometime during the season.

The process for selecting Game Day Staff will include:

- Evaluations by staff and leadership team consisting of a thorough review of each student’s performance to date both in daily rehearsals and in game day situations.
- Special care will be taken to determine if current Game Day Staff members are performing at a level higher than performers with an assigned spot in the drill.
- Record of demerits (“gigs”) accumulated during the season (see section on inspection).
- Students tardy to any game day rehearsals will be automatically placed on Game Day Staff for the following game.
- Students missing the entire marching phase of a game day rehearsal will be placed on Game Day Staff for that day’s game AND the following game.

The goal of this process is to ensure that the best available marchers are on the field, and that current performers do not relax in the assumption that their position is secure. This also provides Game Day Staff a real opportunity to improve and earn a position based on their efforts.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

The GDS selection process:

- All student leader members are required to evaluate their sections and make a collective decision on the selected members that will be placed on game day staff for the coming show
- Section leaders are required to communicate the results of any changes in assignment prior to the first rehearsal of new show preparation, noting for each student the strengths and weaknesses observed during the process.
- Student leaders may be placed on game day staff themselves for failing to communicate their selections to their section leader and section leaders may be placed on game day staff for failing to communicate the selection to their designated director by midnight the day before the next rehearsal.
- Any student may appeal the decision, but such an appeal must be made immediately to the staff member designated for his or her section.
- The staff member will determine the resolution of the appeal based upon his or her observation of the process and a thorough review of the final documentation. The decision of the staff member will be final.
- It will be the prerogative of any faculty member on the marching band staff to make changes in the marching band at any time based upon the observed performance level of every member. Students who do not appear to be catching on to the drill moves in a reasonable amount of time, or who are unable to maintain the necessary rehearsal effort may be removed by a staff member and replaced with a Game Day Staff member at any time. Appeals of such a decision should be made directly to the Marching Band Director, who will confer with the staff member involved before making a final ruling.

The position of Game Day Staff not only allows for the orderly operation of the band as noted above, but it provides the opportunity to work toward the goal of inclusion. It is understood that in the selection process for marching band members, only those students who have the capability of filling a regular spot should be selected. As such, the difference between those students in “regular” positions and Game Day Staff positions should be nearly indistinguishable. That said, students who feel the urge to “ease off” may well find themselves as a member of Game Day Staff the following week. While a Game Day Staff member may experience a certain degree of frustration, he or she must realize that the role of the Game Day Staff is essential if the high standards of the band are to be maintained.

Game Day Staff members are required to maintain the same standard as field marchers in all rehearsal and performance activities, including the following:

- During field instruction, students may be asked to “shadow” other students in assigned positions and/or fill spots on the field due to absence or class conflicts.
- When not on the field, students are expected to be engaged in the rehearsal on the field in such a way that they could seamlessly be integrated into the formations and musical performances as required. This includes proper marking of music and drill charts.
- Performing all assigned additional responsibilities for the successful performance of all shows, including props and logistical needs.

Solo Twirler Audition Policy

Auditions for the positions of Golden Girl, Girl-In-Black, and Silver Twins will take place every spring at a time and place announced by Purdue Bands & Orchestras.

- High school and transfer students must be in admitted status at Purdue University prior to the audition date, and current students must be in good academic standing with the university as of the audition date.
- Prospective solo twirlers are asked to submit a video tape by the posted date prior to the season for which they are interested. After a screening process, select candidates will be invited to campus to audition for the solo twirling positions.
- The final audition will consist of various twirling segments and a personal interview. Specific information outlining the audition process and required audition dates will be provided to interested candidates. Such information can be obtained by calling the main office or the Auxiliary Director.
- Competition honors and titles are an important part of a candidate's personal qualifications since they are an indication of successful achievement. However, since performances will occur at Purdue University, evaluations will be based on current skills and personal qualifications as demonstrated through the audition process, including but not limited to presence on and off the field as well as entertainment value of the audition routine. In addition, seniority will be considered to be a valid item to be used in breaking a tie between two candidates for a particular position.

- In an agreement reached with the Office of Ethics and Compliance at Purdue, solo positions will be awarded based on numerical results of the solo twirler auditions. The first place finisher will be awarded the position of Golden Girl and the second place finisher will be awarded the position of Girl-In-Black. Prior to 2012, the Silver Twins positions were designed for actual twins. Preference in the selection process was given to real twins when they were available to audition. The policy was changed in agreement with Ethics and Compliance in 2012 to award the positions of Silver Twins to those students who placed 3rd and 4th in the solo twirler audition process. This avoids any discrimination based on genetic make-up. Members of the Purdue University Bands faculty and staff will serve as the review panel for these auditions, and their decision shall be final. The ultimate authority behind all decisions rests with the Director of Bands, who shall resolve any impasses in the decision making process.
- The addition of other unique solo twirler positions is part of our band’s traditions, and may happen in special circumstances. Positions such as the “International Twirler” and “Miss Boilerette” have been created from time to time in our history; these positions are not intended to be permanent elements of the band, but are present to recognize situations when there are many outstanding soloists auditioning in a single year.

Alumni Band Participation Policy

The AAMB sponsors an Alumni Band every other year that performs at the Homecoming game that year.

- Membership in this Alumni Band is intended for those who have served their time in the AAMB and have graduated from the University or have gone on to other pursuits outside the realm of study at Purdue.
- Participation in the Alumni Band is NOT open to any student who is currently enrolled as an undergraduate at Purdue University. Undergraduate students who wish to participate in band are expected to enroll in Band 11000.
- Anyone who feels a special situation exists in this matter may appeal to the Director of Bands whose decision shall be final.

Attendance

Regular attendance will be a requirement for all members of the AAMB.

- Rehearsals will begin promptly at 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and will end at 5:30 p.m.
- Saturday dress rehearsals on home game days will be scheduled based on the starting time of the particular game. The general policy will be 3½ hours before game time, though this is subject to change.
- Times listed in the Band Calendar are NOT necessarily accurate for every game or performance; review the “Daily” notes in-season for the most accurate times.

Students must be in attendance for all rehearsals and performances of the AAMB, including Band Camp, all home and scheduled away games occurring during school holidays such as Thanksgiving weekend and Fall Break, and any post-season bowl activities or performances. The only acceptable excuses for absence from a rehearsal are the following:

- Serious illness or death in the family.
- Personal illness or emergency.
- Unavoidable class conflict (Note: such conflicts must be cleared in advance with the AAMB Attendance Officer and indicated on the student’s attendance record. Conflicts that will result in extensive absence from rehearsals will not be approved. Students are expected to schedule courses in such a way as to minimize or eliminate potential sources of conflict).
- Special “one time” class conflicts such as a midterm exam, which must be supported by a note from the instructor.

Daily attendance will be taken at all AAMB rehearsals.

- Specific and detailed attendance records will be kept by the Director or designee.
- Care should be taken to insure the absolute accuracy of the attendance in each rank or group.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

- ANY student who arrives at rehearsal after attendance has been taken, or who must leave a rehearsal early, is expected to report to their rank and section leader prior to beginning rehearsal or upon arrival at rehearsal. Those students who do not have standing conflicts must also submit the appropriate form to the Director as indicated below.
- The section leader will report attendance alterations to the Director or designee on the day they occur.

The Director shall be the final authority on all attendance matters for the organization. Student Leaders cannot make attendance decisions.

Students who expect to be absent or tardy for a rehearsal must submit an attendance request in advance. If the absence or tardy involves a performance or dress rehearsal, this must also be discussed with the Director during a scheduled personal conference.

- The Attendance Request form is available on the band website (www.purdue.edu/bands/attendance)
- Failure to submit the approved absence forms will result in the absence or tardy being considered "unexcused", resulting in a lowering of the band grade as indicated in the section on Grading Policies.
- Forms submitted more than one week late will not be accepted.
- The submission of the proper form does not automatically make an absence or tardy "excused". Previously stated band policies will be applied to determine if it will be considered "excused" or "unexcused."

A student who misses a performance of the AAMB without a valid excuse will receive a failing grade for the course, and placed on permanent Game Day Staff.

Grading

Grading in the AAMB is cumulative over the course of the season, and will reflect an evaluation of the individual student in the following areas:

- Musical performance ability as observed in rehearsals and performances. This will include the required memorization of required music and choreography.
- Marching performance ability as observed in rehearsals and performances.
- Preparation for and full participation in all rehearsals.
- Attendance record, including both excused and unexcused absences, as is guided below
 - The first rehearsal absence of the semester will be automatically excused (whether for illness, conflict, appointment, etc.). One additional rehearsal absence day will be allowed for students to attend a university-sponsored career fair (such as Industrial Roundtable), though students should strive to schedule their career fair attendance at times that do not conflict with AAMB rehearsals.
 - Each additional absence will result in a one letter grade reduction in the final course grade unless excused (see above section on allowable absences).
 - Unexcused rehearsal tardies will accumulate at the rate of two tardies equals one absence.
 - Unexcused absences from any scheduled performance will result in immediate assignment to Game Day Staff and a failing grade for the course. Unexcused tardies for performance situations will result in the student being placed on Game Day Staff for the next performance.
 - Students with excessive absences, whether excused or unexcused may be assigned to Game Day Staff at the discretion of the director.
 - Excessive excused absences may result in a lowered course grade.

Any and all questions concerning individual grades or current class standing should be referred to the Director of the AAMB or designated staff member.

V. UNIFORMS, EQUIPMENT AND MUSIC

Uniforms

All AAMB members are expected to be familiar with all uniform policies, and to be dressed in top “inspection-ready” condition every time the uniform is worn.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

Proper Uniform Requirements:

- The full uniform of the day is always to be worn in its entirety with all buttons fastened. You are responsible for maintaining the cleanliness and crisp look of the uniform while it is in your possession.
- Students will be held responsible for damage to or loss of the uniform, and billed for the cost of any repairs or replacement parts.
- Smoking, drinking, or any behavior unbecoming of a bandsman are expressly forbidden while in uniform.
- Students are NOT to tailor the uniform on their own. Any alterations which are deemed necessary to the uniform will be performed by a properly trained clothing team member.
- Emergency clothing is available in the case of missing or forgotten uniform parts. Contact the Clothing Team for details. Items loaned on this basis must be returned immediately after the performance for which they are used. Please keep in mind that this service is for emergencies, and must not become a habit.

Equipment

University-owned instruments are available for use by members without charge. For the AAMB, wind players and percussionists are required to use university instruments. Please note that the individual student is responsible for any damage that may occur to university-owned equipment while the instrument is signed out to them

- Please report any damage, no matter how minor, immediately to a Supply and Equipment Team member, who will handle the matter from that point.
- Instruments will be inspected upon their return and students billed through the university for any damage. As with the uniforms, do not attempt to make repairs on your own.
- All university-owned instrument repair is to be handled through Purdue Bands & Orchestras.
- Any necessary repairs that cannot be handled by the Supply and Equipment Team will be taken care of by professionals.

Instrument/Equipment Care and Storage:

- University-owned equipment must always be stored in available cases.
- If you intend to keep your instrument in the Hall of Music, you must sign out a locker from the Supply and Equipment Team. Use of these lockers is at your own risk, and no guarantee of safety is either stated or implied.
- The university will not be responsible for loss or damage to student-owned instruments stored on the premises.
- Instruments may not be stored outside of lockers. Note that student office space is NOT considered to be secure storage!
- Please report any problems with instrument security to a faculty member.
- Poms, flags, and other such equipment will be issued directly to the individual auxiliary member.
- Poms are to be stored in open air. If they become wet, blot them with a towel and air dry.
- Performance flags are to be used ONLY for performances.
- If any instrument/equipment gets wet during a performance or rehearsal, dry it before putting it back in its case to prevent mold from developing.

You will be charged for any damage to your instrument related to misuse. Charges will be applied on a case-by-case basis. If your instrument needs to be repaired, you must bring it to a Supply Team Members as soon as possible.

Instruments must be kept in excellent condition including proper maintenance of all slides, valves and keys. There are instrument upkeep guides in all cases that must be followed in order to prevent damage to the instrument.

Music Library Procedures

The AAMB Library Team is responsible for the processing, sorting, distribution, collection, and filing of all music for the “All-American” Marching Band.

- Music: All music will be dispensed by the Library Team. You will be issued one set of music for your particular instrument and part during Band Camp, and you will be responsible for keeping this music usable and in your possession.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

- Flip Folders: Flip folders are required for all instrumentalists, including piccolos and percussion. The purchase of a flip folder for your music is your responsibility, and you may purchase it from any source you choose, including the Band Kloset. Additional windows for folders may also be purchased from the Kloset.
- Additional Music: Additional music will be distributed throughout the season. This will be taken care of by your student leaders.
- Music Requests: The Library team will distribute a system for requesting replacement music, usually on the door to the Library (Room 36/38) or in the Daily. Please make your requests significantly in advance of needing the parts!

VI. GENERAL RULES AND PROCEDURES

Many of the basic rules and procedures of the AAMB have already been covered under specific headings. The following listing contains additional rules and policies that have not been addressed elsewhere in this handbook or in the General Information handbook.

General Operations

1. Rehearsals are held Monday through Friday, rain or shine, beginning at 3:30 p.m. and running until 5:30 p.m. Come prepared to brave the elements!
 - Check your email each afternoon for the “AAMB Daily Notes” to determine what the rehearsal plan is for the day. These notes will also cover announcements for the day, many of which will not be covered verbally at rehearsal.
2. Proper preparation for rehearsal includes having a pencil, your music, drill charts, and your instrument with lyre and flip folder at EVERY rehearsal.
 - Please take care of your charts and music.
 - Piccolo players and percussionists must have the music with them at rehearsals, even though you memorize music.
 - It is required of ALL musicians that ALL music be marked with drill instructions IN PENCIL. Rank leaders will check music during the week to see that it is properly marked.
3. One of the most visible aspects of the daily rehearsal is the march to the drill field.
 - Warm up in front of Elliott Hall out of the way of traffic and pedestrians until the Drum Majors whistle you into position for the march to the field. The first notes you play during the afternoon should not be on the march to the field.
 - Once the Drum Majors blow the initial whistle, fall into position quickly and silently and listen for further instructions.
 - Remember that band members are on display for the entire university and community, and as such must take this movement as seriously as any other performance.
 - Be ready to clear the street quickly at the first sign of approaching emergency vehicles.
4. The AAMB is not the only group to use Elliott Hall.
 - Please keep the facilities neat and clean.
 - No smoking, eating, or drinking is permitted in rehearsal or practice rooms.
 - Police the drill field for trash and loose papers after each rehearsal. Use the trash containers provided.
5. Proper rehearsal attire is a must.
 - Dress for the weather.
 - Good marching shoes and socks must be worn at practice. No sandals or flip-flops.
 - Wear ear-plugs to protect your ears, especially when rehearsing in room 15.
6. The Friday rehearsal before a game is Gold Day, and requires special dress.
 - All members will wear the band T-shirt and solid black shorts or slacks to rehearsal.
 - All instrumentalists will wear their baseball cap (purchased upon acceptance to the AAMB).
 - It is also suggested, but not required, that you wear the shoes and socks that you will wear to the game on Saturday to get used to them on the field.
 - Gigs will be assessed for anyone not in proper outfit.
 - For any show or section where music memorization is required, this must be done by this rehearsal.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

7. Students attending rehearsals or performances under the influence of alcohol or drugs are subject to university discipline and immediate suspension from the AAMB’s performance activities pending further review.
 - This includes the final rehearsal of the season (Senior Day).
 - This rule will be strictly enforced.
 - Those students found in violation will be immediately placed on Game Day Staff with further disciplinary action possible including permanent removal from the block. Student leaders in violation will be immediately removed from their leadership position(s).
8. Know these numbers:
 - Rank number. This is your method of identification in the AAMB.
 - Phone numbers of your section leader, rank members, and others whom you may need to contact.

Game Day

1. The AAMB will perform for all home football games, as well as at selected away games. (see calendar)
 - Special concerns for each performance, such as reporting times and schedule for the day will be addressed in the daily rehearsals the week of the performance.
 - Television can affect the starting time of games, so be prepared for potential changes as the season progresses.
2. The normal game day “ritual” will consist of the following events:
 - Pre-game warm-up rehearsal on the drill field – this is not a practice, but rather intended as a final review before the performance. You will report to the practice field in full uniform, generally about 3.5 hours before game time. Attendance and inspection will be held at this time.
 - Many sections have somewhat earlier call times to take care of section-specific warm-ups. These are very strongly encouraged, but will not be considered a graded call time, nor will absences/tardies from these activities be factored into GDS selection.
 - At the end of rehearsal, there will be a brief break/tailgate at Hull Field, and then march to Slayter Center for the “Thrill On The Hill” pre-game concert. This begins 90 minutes before game time.
 - After the concert, line up and march to the North End for a brief performance, then into the stadium to prepare for the pre-game show.
3. During the game, the band will sit in the stands in assigned areas by instrument.
 - You are to be in the assigned seats throughout the game.
 - Guests, visitors, and other non-uniformed personnel are not permitted to sit or stand with you in or around the band block except as designated by the AAMB Director.
4. Be prepared to play at a moment’s notice.
 - Have your stands music at the ready, and play in a musical manner.
 - No “noodling” or drumming at any time the band is not playing.
 - Use of foul language or any type of negative cheering is absolutely unacceptable!
5. Refreshments are provided in the stands. Other forms of sustenance are allowed but use common sense. Light snacks are acceptable. If you have snacks in your uniform, they should not be visible or especially noticeable.
6. Students are not permitted to leave the stands during the game
 - unless given permission to do so by a student leader or director, or during group restroom breaks.
 - Concession stand stops are forbidden!
7. Uniform parts (especially hats and raincoats) and equipment make nice souvenirs for some people.
 - Always keep a close eye on your equipment, and never leave things lying around unattended.
 - YOU are responsible for stolen items!
8. Move quickly to and from the field for halftime to minimize crowd obstruction
9. Treat visiting directors, band members, and guests courteously. Give them a good reception when introduced.
10. At the end of the game, we will perform a brief postgame show at the stadium, then march to Elliott for the Drum Major Breakdown and dismissal.
 - No one will be dismissed early, unless previously approved by the directors.
 - Parents and friends are invited to attend the show, and then meet you afterwards.

Away game trips

1. When you travel, you represent Purdue University and the “All-American” Marching Band to the public. Remember your responsibilities to the organization.
2. The use of any drugs or alcohol will not be tolerated while in uniform, in transit, on a bus or plane, or in any other capacity of official representation of Purdue University.
 - Our public image is of vital concern, as is your ability to perform to your fullest potential.
 - Consider the greater picture, and what your moment of indiscretion may do to the band and university.
 - Identifiable members of a group such as ours are always open to greater public scrutiny than anyone else.
3. It is your responsibility to see that all of your equipment is taken with you on trips
 - Due to the size of the band, we generally have a one-bag limit for under the bus and one carry-on in addition to your instrument and equipment.
4. On longer trips, you may be housed by members and families of high school bands in our performance area.
 - Remember you are guests in their homes, and show some class.
 - If the situation is less than ideal, make the best of it.
 - write them a personal thank-you note and leave it with your host family.
 - It is customary to take along a small Purdue souvenir as a gift for your host family.
5. Sign-up sheets will be posted for housing and bus attendance before any trip.
 - Students must sign up for a bus and ride that bus for the entire trip.
 - Housing will be assigned by the host party, with every effort made to adhere to the original sign-up list. However, housing availability may require some changes.
 - Students who do not sign up for buses or housing will be randomly assigned by the band administrative assistant.
6. Home team fans can often behave towards visitors in a less than exemplary manner.
 - Be aware of this, and avoid any actions or comments that might incite a violent response towards you or the band.
 - Keep your emotions under control, and keep an eye on your equipment!
7. While on buses, have a good time, but do not interfere with the ability of the driver to safely operate his coach.
 - For attendance and safety purposes, you are to travel on your assigned bus for the entire trip.
 - The assigned bus head will be in charge of the given bus during the trip.
 - At the end of the trip, be certain that the bus is left in spotless condition.
 - Everyone should pitch in and clean the bus as they leave.
8. Be sure to keep an up-to-date copy of the trip itinerary with you at all times, and be punctual for all reporting times.

Emergency Medical Procedures(Medical form for each member must be on record!)

1. If a member of the band or staff is suffering a clearly major medical issue, immediately call 9-1-1. THEN follow the rest of these procedures.
2. Illness during a rehearsal, performance or game day situation is not a matter to be taken lightly. Any student who feels ill or needs medical attention should immediately bring this to the attention of his or her section or rank leader or to a faculty or staff member.
3. Once a staff member has been notified, an individual will be assigned to escort the ill student to the nearest emergency medical facility. If student cannot move, an emergency medic will be contacted and brought to the band area to treat the ill student.
4. The escort will remain with the ill student and take note of the situation and what medical activity transpires. If it is determined that a student must be taken from the immediate area and transported to a medical facility, A STAFF MEMBER MUST BE NOTIFIED OF THE SITUATION BEFORE THE STUDENT IS TRANSPORTED.
5. In the case of medical transport, a staff member will be assigned to stay with the ill student. This individual will obtain the student's Emergency Medical Form and take it along to the medical facility to facilitate quick treatment and to allow a parent or guardian to be contacted as per instructions on the form.
6. The escort should contact the Director as soon as a progress report is available and keep him apprised of the situation.
7. It is the responsibility of each individual student to report any personal injury or medical problems as soon as possible, and to assist in seeing that the proper procedures are followed in dealing with a medical emergency. Student leaders should keep a close eye on their sections for any signs of student injury or illness, and see that such concerns are quickly brought to the attention of a staff member.

8. Medical decisions should be left to the proper authorities and not handled individually by students in the band. Quick and informed response is critical in dealing with any medical emergency.
9. Ill students should contact the Director as soon as practical after treatment and apprise him of their current condition. It is important to bring closure to any medical emergency and to keep band authorities apprised of the outcome of any treatment.
10. Fear of missing a performance or concern over an individual's status with the band should never be cause for delaying or avoiding necessary medical attention. Delay in treatment could result in serious medical consequences.
11. Any director or graduate assistant has the authority to deal with a medical emergency. Student leaders should deal directly with whoever is in the best position to handle the emergency immediately. Any staff member handling a medical emergency will keep the director informed of the situation as necessary.

The Indianapolis 500

Each year at the end of May, the AAMB performs at the Indianapolis 500 Festival Parade and race day ceremonies. This performance is not required of all members, although your participation is highly encouraged. This is one of the most visible performances we have, and it is essential that a large and well-prepared band participate. The receipt of the Band Mug and Band Blanket awards is based on participation as noted in the General Information Handbook. The following points must, however, be met in order for a student to be permitted to participate in the 500 activities:

- A student must have been a member of the AAMB during the fall preceding the 500 activities in question. Previous AAMB students who were on co-op or study abroad during that semester will be considered eligible to participate.
- Students must be enrolled in a Band course during the spring semester in which they petition for the 500 activities (Orchestra, Concert Bands, Jazz Bands, AMRE). Students who are on co-op or who are student teaching during that spring semester will be considered eligible to participate. BAND 120 will be considered only if students are unable to participate in any regular band course. Exceptions to this policy will be made on a case-by-case basis, with the final decision made by the Marching Band Director.
- Students wishing to participate in the 500 activities must complete an official petition form and submit it by the required date.
- Students desiring to participate must be available for all of the 500 rehearsals and activities as stated in the official notice.
- All Drum Majors, Solo Twirlers, BBD Crew members, Auxiliary Student Leaders, and Section Leaders are expected to participate in the 500 activities unless excused by the Director.

Housing will be available at Butler University in Indianapolis. Sign up sheets for housing will be available prior to Spring Break. All arrangements will be handled by the administrative assistant for the Director of Bands. Questions on the 500 activities should be directed to any AAMB faculty or staff member. Specific details for each year will be included with the petition form for that year.

Purdue University Bands Public Performance Policy

Public performance is an important aspect of membership in the Purdue University Bands program. Regular public performances are scheduled for every organized band ensemble each semester through the office of the Director of Bands. Many student members of University Bands organizations are called upon to participate in various solo or ensemble performance situations outside of regularly scheduled or organized Purdue University Bands ensembles. As a general rule, such public performance is encouraged, as long as it does not interfere with a student's obligations to a particular Purdue ensemble.

Students must be aware, however, that the name of Purdue University Bands is important, and that any performance that either in actuality or by implication involves the use of that name must fall under the same control and considerations as performances by organized Purdue University Band ensembles. The name of Purdue University Bands cannot be put into any position that will portray it in a questionable or negative manner. As such, the following policies will be in effect concerning performances that involve Purdue University Band students, whether or not such performances involve the use of Purdue music, uniforms, or equipment:

- No student may participate in any public performance that involves the name of Purdue University Bands, or the use of Purdue University uniforms or equipment, without the express knowledge and permission of the Director of University Bands.
- Requests for public performances by Purdue University Bands students that will involve the use of the Purdue University Bands name either directly or by implication must be referred to the Office of the Director of University Bands. This would include such things as small pep bands, performances at organized events, etc.
- Requests for public performances by Purdue University Bands students as an organized Purdue University group should be made to the Director of Bands. Said request should include complete performance details, the date and time of the event, type of group requested, and other pertinent details.
- Public performances by any ensemble that in some way represents Purdue University Bands may require the attendance of a Purdue University Bands faculty or staff member as deemed necessary by the Director of University Bands.
- Transportation to any group performances outside of the local community will require the use of University transportation as determined by the Director of Bands.
- Any student who wishes to perform or speak publicly as a stated or implied representative of Purdue University Bands must clear such appearances with the Director of University Bands.

This policy is not meant to restrict public performances by students as members of church, club, or personally organized groups, or as soloists with groups or organizations outside of Purdue University Bands. Students may certainly cite any performance credentials they have with the Department of University Bands in such instances. The key to this policy lies in the use of the Purdue University Bands name. Students who have any concerns with performance activities should discuss the situation with the Director of Bands or a member of the Bands Faculty.

VII. INSPECTION AND DEMERIT INFORMATION

This sheet is intended to give you information on the expectations for all members of the “All-American” Marching Band under performance conditions. The goal for any organization of this sort is uniformity in style and appearance. The policies that have been established are in place to insure that all students do their part to meet this goal. The purpose of demerits is to keep a record of those students who need additional work to “measure up”.

Inspection process:

1. All rank leaders will be inspected by a member of the AAMB staff.
2. Rank leaders will then inspect their individual ranks and report to a staff member the results of the inspection including demerit information.
3. All points will be calculated based on the list printed below.
4. Students receiving demerits will be immediately notified by the inspecting officer.
5. Any student who wishes to appeal a demerit must do so immediately after inspection, at which time a faculty member will rule on the matter.
6. After this point, demerits will remain as recorded.
7. The Director of the AAMB WILL NOT interfere in the inspection policy unless asked to become involved by another faculty or staff member.
8. After each game, a list of demerits will be given to the staff member in charge of attendance who will provide updated information to each section leader. The information will be used in the determination of Game Day Staff for the following game.
9. The accumulation of four demerits will automatically place a participant on GDS for the next performance.
10. Once the penalty is served, the slate will drop to “0” once again.

Please become familiar with the requirements of this list. If additional policies are deemed to be needed as the season progresses, you will be informed. Please also be aware that matters of attendance and punctuality fall under a different area and are not a concern here. Also, the Auxiliaries often have policies, which pertain directly to their groups, that may differ from those listed here. In such cases the Auxiliary policy will take precedence for those group members.

In general, we will provide hot dogs and a beverage in the stands at each game after pregame.

SUMMARY

The above list is not necessarily exhaustive, and may be amended as the season progresses. Please keep this entire concept in the spirit it was intended - to foster uniformity and excellence in the band, not to serve as a vindictive weapon. Any concerns with the system or its application by individuals should be directed to the faculty members in charge. Individual abuses of the system will not be tolerated.

VIII. MARCHING FUNDAMENTALS AND TERMINOLOGY

Definitions

The following terminology will be used throughout the season in teaching marching fundamentals and drills. Develop a good command of the terminology to insure the ability to quickly react to commands or charting directions.

PARADE BLOCK	Formation for parade marching where the band is in full ranks, guided by the “1” and “10” position
STEREO BLOCK	Formation for parade marching where the ranks are split into 5 or 6 members, split at the “5” and “6” position
DIAGONAL	Two or more standing at an angle other than behind or beside
COVER DOWN	Check your vertical (file) alignment
GUIDE	Check your horizontal (rank) alignment
INTERVAL	Space between people standing beside each other
DISTANCE	Space between people standing behind each other
8 to 5 STEP	Each step, interval or distance = 22.5” (8 steps per 5 yards)
ADJUSTED STEP	The use of an adjusted step size in order that everyone in a particular formation or drill will reach the final destination on the same count. Each step should be of equal size.
FACING	a turn to the left or right when stationary
FLIP or FLANK	a turn to the left, right, or rear when already in motion
SLIDE	movement on the field while keeping the instrument pointed toward the sideline regardless of direction of travel
PHASING	lack of musical or visual synchronization
FREEZE	a drill reminder to hold position at the end of a maneuver (no mark time)
SNAP	A quick movement with a clear and definitive stopping point
CHECK	Using quick movements of the head, look left and right to see if you are in alignment. No movement to change form.
ADJUST	Quick movement to correct misalignment, if any

Verbal Commands

All verbal commands are given at a strict and consistent tempo. There should be a total of four counts in all commands.

Whistle Commands

In parade marching or when the band is on the move whistle commands are used by the Drum Majors. The whistle signal, in combination with the drum majors’ signal, indicates the desired command to be executed.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

Instrument Carry

Two types of instrument carry will be used by the AAMB. The parade or tucked carry consists of the instrument being carried under the right arm, next to the body, with the long dimension of the instrument parallel to the ground. Tubas and percussion will use a standard carry throughout. Uniformity of carry is necessary in each section.

The show or front carry consists of the instrument being held in front of the body, parallel to and 9" away from the body. The elbows should be angled downward. Most people can use the checkpoint of the mouthpiece being in line with your mouth (mellophones, trombones, trumpets, baritones, flutes, clarinets, and saxes). Sousaphones should keep the right hand on the valves and the left hand on the tubing on the left side of the horn. Saxes should keep their left arm parallel to the ground.

Instrument Play Position

Horn is held parallel to the ground (trumpets, mellophones, trombones, baritones piccolos) and away from the body (clarinets and saxes). Identical horn angle must be maintained throughout the section. If the instruction “TO THE BOX” is given, elevate the head and horn angle 45-degrees above parallel or to the level of “the box” in each particular performance venue.

Position of Attention

The heels are together, toes at a 45-degree angle. Posture is straight and tall, with your chest slightly pushed up to open airway for proper breathing and playing. Your eyes should be forward, head slightly up, with no movement or talking.

Yard Line Orientation

When marching on the football field, the ball of the foot is the part that will hit the yard line. When marching parallel to the yard line (on the yard line), both feet will split the yard line, as in the attention position.

IN PLACE FUNDAMENTALS

- FALL IN Command: “Band.. Fall In”. No verbal response. Indicates that the band is ready to move. Find your position in the block or formation and be prepared for the call to attention.
- ATTENTION Command: “Band... Ten-Hut”. Response: “Chop - Ho”. On tucked carry, left leg snaps to chair position as body straightens up on count one. At the same time, the horn swings up at a 45-degree angle, pivoting from the elbow. On count two, left foot snaps back to attention position, horn snaps back to carry position. For show carry, execute same leg and body movement as above on count one, but keep horn and elbows down. On count two, snap left foot down into position and snap arms and horn up to proper carry position.
- HORNS UP Command: “Band... Horns Up”. For show carry, response is “up”, and horns snap into play position using a flip from the wrist. Be sure mouthpiece is secured. From the tucked carry, response is “one - two - three”. On count one, horn is extended in front of the body by the right hand. On count two, left hand comes out to grasp instrument. On count three, horn is brought back to play position. Section leaders will explain any necessary variations for individual sections. Horns up from the tucked carry is used most often with street cadences and the percussion rolloff. NOTE: For field performances, command is given by signal from the ladder. Conductor will give a crossed-arm ready signal. Band should in a low voice say and hold “ready”. As the conductor snaps to the conducting position, horns snap up to the play position in one count, band shouts “up” on the move.
- HORNS DOWN Command: “Band... Horns Down”. Response: “Drop”. No matter what the carry, instruments return to the carry position in one quick, snappy motion. During field performance, after the release of the final note, execute the horns down to the show carry position with the conductor in the tempo of his release.

PURDUE “ALL-AMERICAN” MARCHING BAND HANDBOOK

FALL OUT	Command: “Fall Out”. No verbal response. You may move about the general area, or move to the new position as directed. Be prepared for a command to fall in.
DISMISSAL	Command: “Band... Dis-missed”. Response: “Go Purdue”. You may break ranks and leave the area.
RIGHT FACE	Command: “Right Face Right Face”. Response: “Step, Turn, Ho”. It is a three count maneuver. On count one, step forward 22.5” with the left foot; on count two, pivot on the ball of the left and right foot, snapping sharply 90 degrees to the right; on count three, snap the left foot in to the attention position. Note: the body moves OVER the forward foot.
GLIDE STEP	This step is most easily taught by taking a normal walking step, with the toes pointing straight forward and the weight rolling smoothly from the heel to the toe. The height of the toe off the ground is approximately 3”. The upper torso should not bounce up or down with the glide step. The preparation move is on the “&.”
LOW CHAIR STEP	Calf and thigh form a 45-degree angle at the knee, with the toe remaining pointed down and the thigh at a diagonal to the ground. The preparation move is on the “&.” In motion, the advancing foot crosses the stationary foot at the ankle.
HIGH CHAIR STEP	Also known as the “power step”. Think of the knee lifting and pulling the foot off the ground, with the toe being the last part of the foot to leave the ground. Calf and thigh form a 90-degree angle at the knee, with the toe remaining pointed down and the thigh parallel to the ground. The preparation move is on the “&.”
RUN-ON STEP	This is basically a high chair step executed at a very fast tempo.
LOW MARK TIME	Used with the glide step and the low chair step, the movement is done in place, the toe remaining on the ground and the heel as high as possible without moving the toe. The command is “MARK TIME – MARK”. The preparation move is on the “&” of 4.
HIGH MARK TIME	Used with the high chair step, the movement is essentially the same as the chair step, except done in place.
LEFT FLANK (LF)	Pivot on the ball of the right foot, turn 90 degrees to the left, and take normal size step in the new direction. The body changes direction on the “&” between steps.
RIGHT FLANK (RF)	Same as left flank, except that pivot is 90 degrees to the right, and left foot must cross over to take the next step. The body changes direction on the “&” between steps.

TO THE REAR (TTR)	Pivot on right foot, turning 180 degrees to the left, then take a step in the new direction. The body changes direction on the “&” between steps.
HORN SWAGGER	The horn swagger is with the instrument being positioned above the raised leg, parallel to the ground, in such a way that when the left leg is lifted, the horn is pointing at an angle to the left at approximately shoulder width. Similarly, when the right leg is lifted, the horn points at a similar angle to the right.
HALT	The halt is executed by taking the final step with the right foot, and then bringing the left foot into place next to the right. It may be indicated as an automatic addition at the end of a drill maneuver, or it may be give as a command. The command “Band... Halt” is given, with the “halt” on the left foot. This is followed by one more step with the right foot and continuing as above. When used as a part of the halt cadence, band will mark time and halt on the final counts of the cadence.

IX . PURDUE ALL-AMERICAN MARCHING BAND ANTI-HAZING POLICY

The anti-hazing document for Purdue Bands outlines university regulations governing hazing as it relates to student organizations, provides details regarding the Indiana Hazing Law and gives information about Purdue Bands’ policy on hazing. This document should help create an environment within the Department of Bands where faculty, staff and students can participate in a safe and healthy environment, while pursuing the mission, goals, expectations and policies of Purdue University and Purdue Bands.

Purdue University Regulations and Procedures for Recognized Student Organizations
