SUBJ: Recommendation of Haiyan Wang for the Turner Professorship

The Engineering Named Professorships Committee unanimously recommends Professor Haiyan Wang for appointment as the Basil S. Turner Professor Engineering. This recommendation is based on the major impact she has made within the field of electronic materials and her recognized role as a leader in this community. Brief comments from some of committee members below are indicative of the level of enthusiasm for this candidate:

- “I'm pleased to support this very strong candidate.”
- “Dr. Wang is an outstanding researcher. I support the appointment.”
- “Excellent addition to both departments. I met with her during her interview and believe she will lead us in new, high level, highly funded programs. I approve.”

Please let me know if we can provide any additional information.
