National Science Foundation (NSF)	NSF has extended the deadline dates for specific funding opportunities. A listing of these extensions is available on the Foundation's COVID-19 webpage. Deadline dates for funding opportunities that do not appear on the list remain unchanged. Recipients who are unable to meet stated deadlines should contact the cognizant NSF Program Officer to discuss the issue. NSF will consider extensions on a case by case basis.	Recipients are authorized to continue to charge salaries, stipends, and benefits to currently active NSF awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, Federal and non-Federal. The recipient also is authorized to charge other costs to NSF awards that are necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Recipients must not assume that supplemental funding will be available should the charging of such costs or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the project. If a shortfall is anticipated, recipients must contact the cognizant NSF Program Officer to discuss the situation.	No guidance	Recipients who incur costs related to the cancellation of events, travel, or other activities necessary and reasonable for the performance of the award, or the pausing and restarting of grant funded activities due to the public health emergency, are authorized to charge these costs to their award without regard to 2 CFR § 200.403, Factors affecting allowability of costs, 2 CFR § 200.404, Reasonable costs, and 2 CFR § 200.405, Allocable costs... If a shortfall is anticipated, recipients must contact the cognizant NSF Program Officer to discuss the situation.	Recipients must follow standard policies and procedures specified in the NSF Proposal and Award Policies and Procedures Guide (PAPPG) Chapter VI.D.3, and applicable award conditions regarding submission of grantee and NSF-approved no-cost extensions.	NSF, however, has automatically extended the due date for submission of all annual project reports due between March 1 and April 30, 2020, by 30 days. These project reports must continue to be submitted via Research.gov. Recipients are reminded that NSF cannot make any new award or supplement any existing award, if the principal investigator (PI) or any co-PI(s) has an overdue annual project report; therefore, it is vital that annual reports are submitted by the revised due date.	The recipient also is authorized to charge other costs to NSF awards that are necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Recipients must not assume that supplemental funding will be available should the charging of such costs or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the project.	Recipients are only required to obtain NSF prior approval for the following program or budget-related reasons specified in 2 CFR 200.308©: Change in the scope or the objectives of the project; Change in a PI or co-PI specified in an NSF award; Transfer of funds budgeted for participant support costs to other categories of expense; Unless described in the proposal and funded in the approved NSF award, the subawarding or transferring out of any work under an NSF award; and The need arises for additional NSF funding to complete the project. The above requests for prior approval must be submitted via Research.gov. All other prior approvals specified in the applicable Prior Approval Matrix are waived. Recipients are reminded that they are to ensure that all costs charged to NSF awards must be consistent with Federal cost policy guidelines and the terms of the award, except as specified in this guidance.	https://www.nsf.gov/news/special_report/s/coronavirus/
National Institutes of Health (NIH)	NIH will be highly accommodating of late applications submitted through May 1, 2020. We anticipate, but cannot guarantee, that all late applications submitted by that date will be reviewed in the council round to which they were submitted (e.g. August or October 2020). As much as NIH would like to extend flexibility further, this rapidly evolving situation also creates multiple challenges for conducting review, and the timeline for getting review outcomes to councils (so that funding can occur) can only be delayed so long. Therefore, applicants should assume that late applications submitted after May 1 may not be reviewed until meetings for the January 2021 council round (e.g., October-November 2020). This notice does not apply to contract proposals. Contact the Contracting Officer listed in the individual solicitation for questions about proposal submission deadlines. https://grants.nih.gov/grants/guide/notice-files/NOT-OD-20-091.html	If a recipient organization's policy allows for the charging of salaries and benefits during periods when no work is performed due to the effect of COVID-19, regardless of the funding source, including Federal and non-Federal, then such charges to NIH grant awards will be allowable. Non-refundable registration fees for conferences, symposiums or seminars that have been cancelled due to COVID19 may be charged to the NIH award if they would have otherwise been allowable (e.g. necessary to accomplish program objectives).	Institutions affected by COVID-19 may continue to provide stipend payments to fellows and trainees who may be unable to work as a result of or related to COVID-19. Recipients should notify the assigned grants management official, and provide documentation demonstrating the effect of COVID-19, and how long the institution will be affected.	Non-refundable costs associated with grant-related travel that has been cancelled due to COVID-19 may be charged to the NIH award if they would have otherwise been allowable. See NIH GPS 7.9.1 for detailed information on the allowability of travel expenses.	One 12 month no cost extension.	If your institution is unable to complete and submit financial and Research Progress Performance Reports (RPPR) by the scheduled due date, due to the effects of COVID-19, please be sure to contact the assigned grants management and/or program official to let them know the reports will be late. NIH will accept these late reports but will delay issuing grant awards until the reports are received and accepted by the appropriate Institute or Center (IC).	NIH is allowing pre-award costs to be incurred from January 20, 2020 through the public health emergency period and prior to the date of a federal award for all applicants and recipients that have been affected by COVID-19	reasons specified in 2 CFR § 200.308(c):	https://grants.nih.gov/grants/natural_disasters/corona-virus.htm
Department of Defense (DOD)	The DOD recommends that program offices provide flexibility with upcoming proposal deadlines to the extent allowable by funding authorities and by the need to have enough time for merit review of submitted proposals. Please contact the program officer and grants manager for the funding opportunity in question to seek an application deadline extension. Proposers are encouraged to monitor grants.gov to see if an extension has been posted.	Based on OMB Memorandum M-20-17 and the uniform guidance (2 CFR 200.403, 2 CFR 200.404, 2 CFR 200.405), the DOD will allow recipients to continue to charge salaries and benefits to currently-active awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, federal and non-federal. DOD components may allow other costs to be charged to federal awards necessary to continue work on a project even if in a period where primary research activities are limited or curtailed. To the maximum extent practicable, recipients will be expected to invoke or institute any and all reasonable mitigation actions and practices to lessen the cost to the government during the crisis period. Such actions may be part of an existing program created by the recipient or may be created to respond to this crisis. Appropriate records and cost documentation must continue to be updated and maintained as required by 2 CFR 200.302 - Financial management and 2 CFR 200.333 - Retention requirement of records.	No guidance	The DOD will allow nonrefundable travel expenses incurred for travel canceled due to COVID-19 to be charged to active awards in agreement with OMB Memorandum M-20-17. Grantees must follow applicable institution policy on allowable expenses for travel.	Extend awards that were active as of March 31, 2020 and scheduled to expire prior or up to December 31, 2020, automatically, at no-cost for a period of up to 12 months. Please contact the DOD grants manager for award-specific guidance. Air Force Office of Scientific Research (AFOSR) Air Force Research Laboratory (AFRL) - may extend awards which are active as of 3/31/2020 and scheduled to expire prior or up to 12/31/20, at no cost for a period of up to twelve (12) months. Contact the Program Officer, Grants Officer and AFOSR.RT.AdminSupport@us.af.mil in writing.	Consistent with OMB Memorandum M-20-17, the DOD will allow grantees to delay submission of financial, performance and other reports on currently-active award accounts up to three months beyond the normal due date. For any other deliverables related to research awards, please contact the DOD grants manager and/or program manager for award specific guidance.	No guidance	Waive prior approval requirements to effectively address the response, except for change of scope or principle investigator.	https://basicresearch.defense.gov/COVID-19/Frequently-Asked-Questions/

Department of Energy (DOE)	Check Funding Opportunity Announcement or DOE Laboratory Announcement for most up-to-date information. National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) - Extensions to application due dates will be determined on a case by case basis. Work with Program Office to determine if an extension is possible. ARPA-E - Prospective and current applicants are encouraged to check ARPA-E eXCHANGE for revised submission deadlines. Almost all deadlines have been changed in response to requests from various parties.	Recipients are authorized to continue to charge salaries, stipends, and benefits to currently active DOE awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, Federal and non-Federal. The recipient is authorized to charge other costs to DOE awards that are necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Recipients must not assume that supplemental funding will be available should the charging of such costs or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the project. If a funding shortfall is anticipated, recipients must contact the cognizant DOE CO to address the situation. DOE will evaluate the recipient's ability to resume the project activity in the future and the appropriateness of future funding, as done under normal circumstances—based on subsequent project reports and other communications with the recipient. Recipients are required to maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR § 200.302 – Financial management and 2 CFR § 200.333 -Retention requirement of records to substantiate the charging of any salaries and other project activities costs related to interruption of operations or services.	No guidance	If institutional policy permits travelers to purchase nonrefundable items (airfare, lodging, or other) and does not require travelers to reimburse the institution for change or cancellation fees, such fees may be charged to an award. ARPA-E - Allowability of costs for expenses not normally chargeable to awards, such as cancellation or delay penalties, or the winding-down and restarting of sponsored project activities, will be determined on a case-by-case basis on each individual invoice. If found to be allowable such costs may be reimbursed to recipients from monies already obligated by ARPA-E.	Include official confirmation of the closure, quarantine, or other incident that makes timely submission impossible. Telework, in and of itself, will not warrant a deadline extension. Requests to extend a deadline must be made before the deadline. National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) - Recipients must notify the CO if it is utilizing the regulatory authorities in 2 CFR 200.308(d)(2) to implement a no-cost extension to its award. The CO will then issue a modification to the award to change the expiration date. COs are authorized to provide no-cost extensions to current awards which were active as of March 31, 2020 and scheduled to expire on or before December 31, 2020. COs are also authorized to extend awards for which recipients have already utilized the one-time extension provided in 2 CFR 200.308(d)(2). A determination for non-competitive federal financial assistance as required by 2 CFR 910.126 will not be required for any no-cost extensions due to the COVID-19 crisis. ARPA-E - active at any time between March 31, 2020 and December 31, 2020 may be extended utilizing the authority at 2 C.F.R. § 200.308(d)(2)	Recipients must inform the DOE CO if they require an extension for the submission of any pending periodic financial, performance and other reports required by the terms of the award. DOE will extend the due dates for the submission of financial, performance and other reports for up to three ARPA-E - Requests for additional time to submit reports required by Attachment 4 may be addressed to ARPA-ECOV19-Response@hq.doe.gov with the ARPA-E agreement number and recipient name in the subject line. ARPA-E will assess these requests on their merits and may provide up to an additional three months for submission of reports due between March 1, 2020 and August 1, 2020.	No guidance	Recipients are required to obtain the prior approvals specified in 2 CFR § 200.308 (c) (i-viii). Recipients are reminded that they are to ensure that all costs charged to Federal awards must be consistent with Federal cost policy guidelines and the terms of the award, except as specified in this guidance.	https://www.purdue.edu/business/sps/pdf/DOE_SC_Accommodating_Interruptions_to_Applicants-Awardees_due_to_COVID-19.pdf

Department of Justice (DOJ)	Due dates between March 16th and March 31st will have a 2-week extension.	OJP will allow recipients to continue to charge salaries and benefits to their awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries and benefits under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances from all funding sources (Federal and non-Federal). As outlined in 2 C.F.R. § 200.431 (a) and (b), benefits may include the costs of leave ("regular compensation paid to employees during periods of authorized absences from the job, such as for annual leave, family-related leave, sick leave ... administrative leave, and other similar benefits"), as long as they are provided under written leave policies.		OJP will allow recipients who incur costs related to the cancellation of events, travel, or other activities necessary and reasonable for the performance of the award (e.g., the costs of providing telework equipment to employees who are working on the award), or the pausing and restarting of grant-funded activities due to the public health emergency, to charge these costs to their award. OJP will allow recipients to charge full cost of cancellation when the event, travel, or other activities are conducted under the auspices of the grant. In cases where charging of cancellation or other costs results in insufficient funds to eventually carry out the event or travel, please contact your grant manager to discuss possible alternatives or changes to the scope of the project, if feasible.	In accordance with the Part 200 Uniform Requirements (2 C.F.R. Part 200, as adopted by DOJ) and consistent with the DOJ Grants Financial Guide, most OJP awards may be eligible for one no-cost extension of up to 12 months. If the grant has previously received a no-cost extension and an additional extension will be requested due to the extenuating circumstances occurring in connection with the public health emergency, refer to the DOJ Grants Financial Guide for additional information and consult with your grant manager as needed.	For grantees unable to meet original due dates, OJP is allowing delayed submission of up to 60 days for Federal Financial Reports for the reporting period January 1 – March 31, 2020. GMS will continue to send automatic delinquency notifications, which can be disregarded. However, grant funds will not be withheld unless the FFR has not been submitted by June 30. Please note that at this time, due dates for reports for the remaining fiscal year are unchanged. Progress reporting and performance measurement reporting: For grantees unable to meet original due dates, OJP is allowing delayed submission of up to 60 days for progress and performance measure reports due in March and April 2020. GMS will continue to send automatic delinquency notifications, which can be disregarded. Please note that at this time, due dates for reports for the remaining fiscal year are unchanged.	No guidance	Until further notice, unless otherwise specifically stated below, OJP is suspending the requirements for grant recipients to seek prior approval and to process Grant Adjustment Notices (GAN) in relation to the items discussed below that would normally require prior approval and/or a GAN. Grantees should maintain a copy of this guidance with any other appropriate records and cost documentation in their grant files (as required by 2 C.F.R. § 200.302, 2 C.F.R. § 200.333).	https://www.purdue.edu/business/sps/pdf/Office_of_Justice_Programs-COVID-19_Impacts.pdf

National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA)	https://nifa.usda.gov/announcement/nifa-deadline-extensions-due-covid-19	Recipients are authorized to continue to charge salaries, stipends, and benefits to currently active USDA NIFA awards consistent with the recipients' policy of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, Federal and non-Federal. In general, recipients should utilize the salaries, stipends, and benefits rates and staffing levels in place on March 1, 2020 when President Trump proclaimed that the COVID-19 outbreak in the United States constituted a national emergency. The recipient also is authorized to charge other costs to USDA NIFA awards that are necessary to resume activities supported by the award, consistent with applicable Federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Recipients must not assume that supplemental funding will be available should the charging of such costs or other fees result in a shortage of funds to eventually carry out the project.	No guidance	If your organization is rescheduling the conference due to the impacts of COVID-19, and your organization later holds the conference, whether in person or virtually, during the award period of performance, and the costs were otherwise allowable costs prior to cancellation, and your organization took mitigation steps to reduce any financial loss of award funds, then NIFA will allow the associated costs. Please note the balance of award funds may not be increased by the amount of funds expended on cancelled conference costs. Your institution will need to provide a justification, which addresses the elements mentioned above, to NIFA's Awards Management Division (AMD) awards@usda.gov. Unfortunately, losses by persons or activities not directly funded under the award are not covered, such as attendee airline change fees or increases in their later airline ticket purchases. Since most scenarios related to allowability are fact specific, please contact NIFA at awards@usda.gov to consult with a grants specialist about your organization's specific circumstances.	For competitive grants, recipients are generally allowed no-cost extensions of up to 12 months without prior approval. They must follow standard policies and procedures specified in the terms and conditions of their USDA NIFA grant with regard to these no-cost extensions. The project directors can contact the NIFA National Program Leader assigned to the project during the last year of the project to discuss various options. This includes adjusting the project scope, giving a No-Cost Extension, and providing supplemental funding for completing the project. Since these options are needed towards the end of a project, additional information about this topic will be provided at a later date.	USDA NIFA will allow grantees to delay submission of financial, performance and other reports up to 90 days beyond the normal due date. Grantees may continue to draw down Federal funds from ASAP without the timely submission of these reports. However, these reports must be submitted at the end of the postponed period. In addition, USDA NIFA may waive the requirement for recipients to notify the agency of problems, delays or adverse conditions related to COVID-19 on a grant by grant basis (200 CFR 200.328(d)(1)) during the effective period of the M-20-17.	Up to 90 days without pre-approval.	Recipients are required to obtain the prior approvals specified in 2 CFR § 200.308 (c) (i-viii) which must be submitted via awards@usda.gov for competitive grants and for capacity grants via capacityequipment@usda.gov. USDA NIFA will review its agency-specific prior approval requirements and notify grantees if decisions are made to temporarily waive any of these requirements. Recipients are reminded that they are to ensure that all costs charged to Federal awards must be consistent with Federal cost policy guidelines and the terms and conditions of the award, except as specified in this guidance.	https://nifa.usda.gov/coronavirus?utm_content=&utm_medium=email&utm_name=&utm_source=govdelivery&utm_term=

In recognition that some employees may not be able to perform NASA work remotely, you should contact your Contracting Officer immediately regarding the details of the Advanced Agreement under the conditions that will be provided, allow for the placement of such employees under a form of weather and safety leave (consistent with your company procedures), in order for such leave to be an allowable cost under the contract and subject to provisional payment. This leave would be allowed solely for covering employees unable to work remotely because of this COVID-19 situation and keeping employees in a mobile ready state to maintain the Space Industrial Base and other skilled professionals and key personnel, per OMB Memo 20-18. Any costs provisionally paid for weather and safety leave purposes will be subject to reconciliation and settlement as part of an equitable adjustment to the contract after a return to normal operations. National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH)	Application deadlines will not be extended. Applications must be submitted through and validated by Grants.gov by the published deadlines.	Recipients may draw down budgeted salary expenses consistent with the written procedures of paying salaries (under unexpected or extraordinary circumstances) from all funding sources, both federal and non-federal. Recipients also have minor rebudgeting authority that would permit them to charge costs necessary to resume activities supported by the NEH award, consistent with applicable federal cost principles and the benefit to the project. Recipients must maintain appropriate records and cost documentation as required by 2 CFR §200.302 Financial management and 2 CFR §200.333 Retention requirement for records to substantiate the charging of any salaries and other project activity costs related to the interruption of operations or services. Recipients may also submit a prior approval request through eGMS Reach for supplemental funding to cover project-related expenses incurred due to coronavirus-related loss of operations. NEH will consider such requests on a case by case basis, and approval is not guaranteed. Please contact your NEH program officer through eGMS Reach for additional information.	No guidance	EH will reimburse recipients for nonrefundable project-related travel expenses tied to a canceled event. Please keep in mind the following: All transportation and lodging costs must be allowable, reasonable, allocable to the funded project, and in compliance with the recipient's written travel policy. In light of the evolving travel and public gathering restrictions, recipients are advised to review the travel cancellation policy in their written procedures.	recipient organizations have the authority to approve a one-time extension of the end date of the period of performance established in the initial award if they require additional time to complete the original scope of the project with the funds already made available. A single extension that shall not exceed 12 months may be made for this purpose, provided it is made prior to the original expiration date. To exercise this option: The institutional grant administrator must notify the NEH Office of Grant Management in writing via eGMS Reach of the new expiration date at least 30 calendar days before the end of the original period of performance and must provide justification for the extension period. Please include a revised work plan with your extension notification.	Recipients may delay submission of financial and other reports up to three months beyond the normal due date. During this time, recipients may continue to draw down federal funds without the timely submission of these reports. However, these reports must be submitted at the end of the postponed period.
