Dear Parents,

Your child’s class is scheduled to attend The Musical Adventures of Flat Stanley on November 17, 2014 at 10:00 am at Loeb Playhouse on the campus of Purdue University.

The Musical Adventures of Flat Stanley
Jeff Brown’s book “Flat Stanley” celebrates its 50th anniversary as a family classic. The musical stage adaptation has followed in its footsteps receiving national critical acclaim. “What I love about the show are all the teachable moments that don’t feel like lessons,” says DCT’s guest director Michael Serrecchia. “It’s a fun, Broadway-style musical comedy about the value of being different and the importance of family.” A Musical for Grades K-4.

Purdue Convocations student matinees are reserved for students and their teachers. To learn more about The Musical Adventures of Flat Stanley, or to purchase tickets to the public performance of this production, please visit: convocations.org.

Note from the Teacher:

With support from:

______________________________

FIELD TRIP PERMISSION FORM

Yes, (child’s name)______________________ has permission to attend The Musical Adventures of Flat Stanley on November 17, 2014.

Signature: __________________________________________________________

Printed name: ____________________________________________________ Date: ___________________