

INDIANA FOOD SUMMIT

Public Health Professionals

Tuesday 26 September 2017

Network with others in your region and state

Attend sessions to strengthen your work!

Institutional Support of Local Food Production: Learn how health, farmer and non-profit organizations are producing food for the home consumer: Christine Davies, Community Hospital Anderson; Karen Mitchell, Grow Local Lafayette; Sherri Dugger, Indiana Farmers Union Moderating

Farm-to-Institution Local Food Sourcing: find out how to buy more local food for school food service, commercial kitchens and retail or wholesale food operations: Heather Tallman, Program Manager Indiana Grown moderating a panel of wholesale sellers – Piazza Produce, This Old Farm and others

Engaging Your Elected Officials: How to tell your story and make it meaningful for our representatives; Tamara Ogle, Purdue Extension will present and moderate a panel from Indiana Farm Bureau, Indiana Cooperative Development Center and Prosperity Indiana

Cooking it up: Starting and Managing Entrepreneurial Shared Kitchens in Indiana: Tanya Hall, Purdue Extension will share the results of our research on the Economic Contribution of shared-kitchens and moderate a fantastic panel of shared kitchen managers/owners: Spencer Mize, CookSpring (Fort Wayne); Artie Stevens, Indy's Kitchen; Jay Burton, One World Kitchen Share (Bloomington)

Food Re-purpose and Rescue: Diverting usable food from the landfill and educating our youth and institutions on the immense environmental, social and economic impact of this work. Melissa Maulding, Purdue Extension will moderate a panel, Jennifer Brilliant, Food Rescue; Jennifer Vigran, CEO Second Helpings; Deborah Ferguson, IUPUI Office of Sustainability

Early Bird Registration ends September 11, 2017!

$50 for Conference Day, $25 for Evening Networking Faire

$75 Pre-conference workshop: Stock Healthy Shop Healthy

Opportunities to host a table as a Summit Sponsor for $150