TRANSPORTATION LEADERSHIP GRADUATE CERTIFICATE PROGRAM OFFERS ONLINE FALL 2014 COURSES

Fargo, ND, 1BJuly 31, 2014– This award-winning, nationally recognized program provides students with the unique opportunity to take transportation courses online through the Transportation Leadership Graduate Certificate (TLGC) program. By enrolling in online graduate level courses for transportation professionals, the TLGC program prepares future leaders of the transportation industry. This semester courses are offered from four of the nation’s premier universities and are taught by leading faculty members. The online course format provides a flexible and convenient education opportunity for busy professionals to advance in their careers. Some of the most prominent courses offered for the fall 2014 semester are High-Speed Rail Construction Management, Logistics Systems, Sustainable Transportation Asset Management, Transportation and the Environment, and Urban Transportation System Analysis courses. Visit www.transleader.org for any additional information on the TLGC program, courses, registration, and more.

The TLGC program is a post-baccalaureate certificate program sponsored by the Regional University Transportation Centers. Through the collaborative efforts of 60 university transportation centers and transportation industry professionals, the TLGC program is able to offer high-quality instruction from transportation experts across the country. The premier universities offering courses for the current semester are Kansas State University, North Dakota State University, Texas A&M University, and the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.
