Guest Speaker: Nicholas A. Bowman

Dr. Bowman is an assistant professor in the Department of Higher Education and Student Affairs at Bowling Green State University. Most of his work explores diversity experiences on college campuses as well as the assessment of college student outcomes. He has had dozens of peer-reviewed journal articles published on these topics since 2009, and he is the recipient of the 2012 Promising Scholar/Early Career Award from the Association for the Study of Higher Education. He serves on the editorial boards of several top journals, including Research in Higher Education, The Journal of Higher Education, and Review of Educational Research. Dr. Bowman received his Ph.D. in Psychology and Education, along with two master’s degrees in Education and a graduate certificate in Culture and Cognition, from the University of Michigan.
