

SERVICE-LEARNING FELLOWS PROGRAM

The ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and nationwide attention to systemic injustices have continued to shape the nature of service-learning courses and partnerships at Purdue and across the nation. Aiming to bounce forward and adapt to new challenges and opportunities, who will we be and what will service-learning look like in 2022-2023? Set among this backdrop, instructors in partnership with service-learning staff will explore where service-learning fits into this ever-changing narrative. Together, participants will collaboratively develop the skills and tools needed to deliver effective, mutually beneficial service-learning courses.

The Office of Engagement invites applications for the semester-long Spring 2023 Service-Learning Fellows Program designed to foster the development and institutionalization of service-learning courses and curricula, projects, and scholarly pursuits at Purdue, as well as strengthen collaborative efforts and outcomes in communities. Faculty (including non-tenure track), lecturers, staff, and graduate student instructors from the West Lafayette, Purdue Northwest, and Purdue Fort Wayne campuses seeking to implement service-learning pedagogy under today's shifting circumstances in the 2022-2023 academic year are encouraged to apply. Up to $2,000 is available per project ($1,000 instructor discretionary funds and $1,000 community partner project).

APPLICATION

To apply, complete the online application HERE by November 11, 2022, 5:00 PM EDT. In addition to basic demographic information, the application requires a signature of support from the applicant's department (supplemental document) and a service-learning course proposal that responds to the prompt below. If you do not have a community partner, you will be matched with one upon acceptance into the program.

PROMPT

At Purdue, service-learning is defined as a subset of service engagement, and is a course-based, credit-bearing educational experience in which students:

- Participate in an organized service activity that meets community-identified needs;
- Use knowledge and skills directly related to a course or discipline; and
- Reflect on the service activity in such a way as to gain further understanding of course content, a broader appreciation of the discipline, and an enhanced sense of personal values and civic responsibility.

In no more than two single-spaced pages, 12-font, describe your potential course and motivation for participating in this program using the following headings:

- Motivation for Participation: Consider discussing personal, professional, community motivations; intentions for increasing service-learning and engagement on campus; creating meaningful community impacts.
- Course Information: Describe the potential course in which you will be incorporating service-learning, including a brief course description and learning outcomes.
- Service-Activity: Describe the potential service activities—virtual or remote activities are acceptable
- Connection to Course Content: Provide a brief explanation for how the course content and/or discipline link to the service activity, including potential reflection activities to foster this connection.

Please note, you do not need to have a partner identified as the service-learning staff will help develop these partnerships.

FELLOWSHIP SCHEDULE

The following topics will be explored:

Session	Topic
Week 1	Welcome & Service-Learning Intention
Week 2	Positionality and Critical Service-Learning
Week 3	Designing Your Course & Partnerships
