Medical Emergencies

1. In chapter houses, be sure your chapter has a complete first aid kit in an accessible place in your chapter room. Take the kit with you at chapter retreats and other out-of-town functions.

2. Call the paramedics and give necessary information regarding the sickness/accident.

3. In the event of a serious illness or injury, do not notify the parents immediately. The medical officials may wish to notify parents and advise them of the situation.
If a Member Attempts Suicide
In the case of a suicide attempt, with or without serious injury, do not assemble your members or call parents. Call 911.

Member in Distress

- Sometimes your organization may have a member that is experiencing a mental health crisis or difficulties, or a member that is exhibiting disturbing behaviors.
- In the event of a dangerous member, where safety for self or others is an immediate concern (i.e. verbal or physical threats to harm others or self; active threats of suicide), call 911.
- If the member is disruptive or acting in a disturbing manner, where safety is not an immediate concern (i.e. the person is willing to accept help, demonstrates bizarre behavior or communication; disruptive to the living/learning environment), call the Crisis Hotline 765-742-0244. The Lafayette Crisis Center collaborates with Purdue University to offer 24/7 availability for services. If a member is in distress do not assemble the whole organization. Discuss with the campus officials the steps that you should take to handle the situation. Campus officials will also determine if parents need to be contacted. When in doubt contact your FSCL Advisor.

Serious Illness
There are several procedures and precautions that group members should take in the event one of your fellow members develops what appears to be a serious illness (including substance addiction or eating disorder). An ill member may ignore his or her condition and may not take the initiative to seek proper medical attention. As responsible adults, you must be sensitive to your members’ physical and psychological welfare. If you become aware of a member who is suffering from a serious illness, take immediate action by following these guidelines and contacting appropriate people who can help:

- Initially bring your concern to the attention of the member. Tell the member you are aware of his/her condition and that you are concerned.
- Determine what kind of medical attention or psychological counseling the member has sought. What kind of care has been described?
- If the ailing individual continues to ignore his/her physical or psychological condition, contact your chapter advisor.
- Information about the situation should be brought to the advisor’s attention, and consult the campus counseling center for guidance on establishing a specific plan of action to help the member.

It is extremely important that members be understanding and sensitive in dealing with cases of serious illness. There may be some cases when an ailing person will not want your assistance and will strongly object to any contact with his parents. It is important to respect the wishes of the person; however, you may find yourself in a situation where respecting a person’s wishes may not be medically wise or sound. The realities of the situation should not be ignored.
Death

1. In the event of a death, do not notify the parents; this will be done by emergency or university officials.
2. Be very careful that the death is not announced until all members of the immediate family have been notified.
3. Do not announce the death until your advisor has arrived to help. You will also want to have a bereavement counselor (the Office of the Dean of Students will arrange this) present when you make the announcement to help your members deal with the shock.
4. If the member lived in the house do not remove any of the deceased student’s personal possessions. If the member had a roommate, the roommate should be moved.
5. After the family has been notified, the advisor and/or president may wish to call the family to offer sympathy on behalf of the organization, and ask what their wishes are in regard to the possessions. You may offer to pack them in boxes, but chances are the parents will prefer to do this themselves.
6. Before the family arrives, be sure that all borrowed items are returned to the deceased’s room and if possible, lock it. When they do arrive, you may want to have empty boxes available and offer to help. This is an emotional trauma for parents and other family members, so they may want privacy.
7. It is of course proper to send sympathy cards and notes, flowers, etc. If the funeral is nearby, it could mean a great deal to the parents for members to attend. Offer to make a statement on behalf of the fraternity at the memorial service. If the funeral will be out-of-town, you may want to arrange a local memorial service. You can contact the Fraternity, Sorority and Cooperative Life Office or Office of the Dean of Students for assistance in making arrangements.
8. Check to see if your ritual contains a ceremony for memorial services.
9. For some of you members, this may be their first experience in dealing with the death of someone close to them. Keep an eye out for members who appear to be having difficulty coping with the situation and encourage them to talk with a counselor.
10. The Office of the Dean of Students (ODOS) will take care of notifying the deceased student’s instructors and other campus offices of the death.
11. When someone close to you dies, it is difficult to accept the loss and you and your members may find yourselves consumed by pain, fear, and grief. Grief is a normal response to losing someone who was important to you. Grief hurts, but it is necessary. When death tears your work apart grieving is the process that puts it back together.
12. Grief runs through stages, although not everyone experiences every stage, and your members will pass through the stages at their own rate. That is why it is important to understand the stages of grief:
   a. Denial - This response is nature’s way of protecting you and insulating you from what happened.
   b. Anger - You may feel angry toward the doctors and nurses who couldn’t save the life of the deceased. You might even feel angry at the deceased for leaving you. These feelings of anger may lead you to feel guilty.
c. Guilt - You may feel guilty for simply being alive when someone else has died. You might feel guilty about not saying goodbye, or you may remember a fight you had with the deceased.

d. Depression - Even if you are normally a committed, caring person, you may find that you don’t care about anything or anyone. This is a common feeling as are the others.

e. Acceptance - Hopefully, the grieving process will accept the death eventually. That does not mean you have to forget the deceased. It just means it is time to go on living

How do we determine and coordinate our response?

1. Identify and Assess the Issue/Problem
2. Determine the appropriate response to maximize health and safety
3. Communicate your plan
4. Execute your plan

If a medical emergency is reported:

- Dial 911 and request an ambulance.
- Provide the following information:
  - Your name
  - Number and location of victim(s)
  - Nature of injury or illness
  - Hazards involved
  - Nearest entrance (emergency access point)

Response Procedures for Physical Injuries:

- Only trained responders should provide first aid assistance.
- Do not move the victim unless the victim's location is unsafe.
- Control access to the scene.
- Take “universal precautions” to prevent contact with body fluids and exposure to bloodborne pathogens.
- Meet the ambulance at the nearest entrance or emergency access point; direct them to victim(s)

Response Procedures for Fire:

- Evacuate building occupants along evacuation routes to primary assembly areas outside.
- Redirect building occupants to stairs and exits away from the fire.
- Prohibit use of elevators.
- Evacuation team to account for all employees and visitors at the assembly area.
- Meet Fire Department Incident Commander (IC). Inform the IC if everyone has been accounted for and if there are any injuries. Provide an update on the nature of the emergency and actions taken. Provide building floor plans, keys and other assistance as requested.
- Assign personnel to verify that fire protection systems are operating normally and to operate building utility and protection systems as directed by the fire department.
Response Procedures for Shelter in Place:

- Direct personnel outside to enter the building; then close exterior doors; secure doors if possible
- Shutdown ventilation system and close air intakes
- Move employees to interior spaces above the first floor (if possible)
- Person to monitor news sources for updated emergency instructions
- Assembly Area Monitors (to account for evacuees at the assembly area)

Be Prepared

Teach Risk Management and Crisis Management to the membership.

All risk management policies and procedures should be taught during the new member period for members. Review these policies and procedures with the entire membership in the beginning of each semester. The first concern should be the health and safety of each member, and the organization in general. All members must know who is in charge and be prepared to follow instructions.

Identify the leader BEFORE the problem happens.

The President of the organization should take charge in any crisis. The President should consult with advisors, staff, and other members who possess more expertise or insight. The final decision, however, must rest with the President. If the President is absent, the next ranked officer is in charge. All officers should know where to find a copy of the chapter's emergency procedures. It is helpful to distribute a chain of command to the members of the organization.

Ex: Officer's Name: Phone Number

1. President:
3.

If you have a house, be sure that your House Director is aware of these procedures.

Emergency Information Cards

Keep on file with the president, an emergency card or page for each member and aspirant/pledge/associate/new member.

Included on the card should be:

- Member's full name and birth date
- Member's local address and telephone number (if other than the house)
- Name, address, telephone numbers and email addresses of parents or guardians. Be sure to get this information for both parents when possible. Include parents’ residence, work and cellular telephone numbers.
- Name, address, and telephone numbers of another person to notify in the event the parents cannot be reached (Examples: neighbor of parents, relatives)
- Medical information (allergies, medical conditions, etc.)
• Name and telephone number of the family physician
• Insurance information  ○ This information can be extremely helpful to emergency responders. It may not be used often but when you need it you will want to have it available.

If a Tragedy Occurs
If a tragedy has occurred within your house, close the house at once. You cannot give instructions if your members are leaving and strangers are entering. Permit only your members and appropriate officials to enter. Do not stop emergency personnel from entering to assist.

Emergency Phone Calls to Make
You need to make several phone calls immediately.

1st: Call 911 and request Police, Ambulance etc. If the emergency situation is a fire, your alarms may or may not automatically bring a fire truck; therefore, immediately call the fire department. Do not hesitate to call the campus police regardless of the situation.
   • School’s Security Emergency Number
   • Local Emergency Number: 911
   • Fire Department
   • Campus Police

2nd: Call the Fraternity, Sorority and Cooperative (FSCL) Advisor. This person will discuss the situation with you and in all serious cases will be at the house or chapter meeting place in a matter of minutes. Always call, day or night, if you are in doubt as to whether a situation is serious or not.

3rd: Call your advisor. For fraternities and sororities, call your inter/national fraternity/sorority’s administrative office. Call your housing corporation president. Call your risk management advisor.

Informing Members and Making Public Statements
Assemble your members in a group. Depending on the situation, out-of-house members may need to be called in. It is important that all members remain calm during the crisis. Explain to them that there is an emergency situation and that the house is closed. Ask them to cooperate in halting outgoing phone calls until the situation is under control. Do not discuss the situation until the FSCL advisor, chapter advisor, or housing corporation president arrives. Instruct your members to make no statements to anyone other than school or your organization officials. As the president, you make any appropriate statements to the media after the situation is under control and you have discussed the content of your statement with school, advisors, and inter/national headquarters staff or representative. Make sure, however, that everyone knows what your statements will be.
Purdue University Policy Against Hazing
(Administrative Approval, February 11, 1994)

A. Certain forms of hazing are criminal offenses in Indiana. All forms of hazing are prohibited by Purdue University both on and off campus.

B. Hazing means forcing or requiring another person, regardless of that person's consent, to perform an act that:
   a. Creates a substantial risk of physical harm;
   b. Substantially or seriously demeans or degrades any person; or
   c. Interferes with any person's scholastic activities.

C. Any hazing allegation against a student organization will be investigated by the University. If found guilty in a disciplinary action, the student organization may incur a disciplinary penalty as specified in "Violations of Rules and Regulations." University action occurs whether or not civil or criminal actions take place.

D. In addition to action taken against a student organization, the University may take action against individual students for hazing when their conduct falls within "Regulations Governing Student Conduct, Disciplinary Proceedings and Appeals," section B-2.

E. Any person suffering or witnessing a hazing activity is strongly encouraged to report the incident to the staff of the Office of the Dean of Students.

F. The president of each student organization is responsible for informing pledges, affiliates, initiated members, and guests of this policy.

Purdue University Campus Alcohol Policy

Members of recognized fraternities, sororities, and cooperative housing organizations shall be subject to the following conditions concerning the possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages on the premises of their houses.

- Under no circumstances may alcoholic beverages be sold. Alcoholic beverages may not be available at any event where an admission fee is charged.
- Alcoholic beverages may not be consumed outside the house.
- Alcoholic beverages and containers for alcoholic beverages may not be displayed outside the house.
- Alcoholic beverages may not be provided or consumed at any open event. (For purposes of these regulations, an event is open if verbal or written invitations are extended en masse to the general public or to an unreasonable large segment of the campus community [i.e., a number of invited guests greater than a host house can reasonably expect to accommodate, which is determined by the Office of the Dean of Students to be no more than three invited guests for each resident of the host house]. An event is closed if only members of the sponsoring organization[s] and their personally invited guests participate. There may be no more than four organizations participating in an event at a host house, regardless of the aforementioned three-to-one policy.)
- All sponsoring organizations are equally responsible for open and closed events and for compliance with University regulations and applicable laws.

Indiana Lifeline Law and Purdue University Medical Amnesty

Purpose of the Lifeline Law and Medical Amnesty

To ensure students and citizens are fulfilling their duty of reporting a medical emergency without fear of arrest or prosecution for certain alcohol-related offenses.

Indiana Lifeline Law

Provides that a person is immune from arrest or prosecution for certain alcohol-related offense if the arrest or prosecution is due to the person:

1) reporting a medical emergency
2) being the victim of a sexual offense
3) witnessing and reporting what the person believes to be a crime

The Lifeline Law provides immunity for crimes of public intoxication, minor in possession, minor in consumption, the persons who identify themselves to law enforcement.

In order to receive immunity, the person must:
- Provide full name and any other relevant information to officers
- Remain on the scene until law enforcement and medical staff dismiss
- Cooperate with all authorities

Purdue University Medical Amnesty

In cases of intoxication and/or alcohol poisoning that occur on the West Lafayette campus, on the premises of a Recognized Student Organization or sponsored function, the intoxicated student as well as the students seeking medical attention on their behalf will be exempt from Disciplinary Sanctions related to alcohol consumption.

This policy was put into place to:
- Extend that the primary concern of Purdue University is the health and safety of individuals involved
- Recognize that the potential application of Disciplinary Sanctions could deter students from making the responsible decision to seek medical attention
- The university has established the Purdue Community Alcohol-Related Emergency Situation

Individuals Affected by this policy:
- All students and Recognized organizations on the West Lafayette Campus

University Guidelines/Policies to Consider

Smalley Center Flyer Distribution Publicity/Posting Guidelines

- All publicity related to a recognized student organization (RSO) activity including: posting inside buildings, posting outside on kiosks, chalking on sidewalks, and posting on websites, must clearly identify the RSO as the sponsor of the activity.

- Any publicity that includes the advertisement of an agency outside the University must be approved by the Business Office for Student Organizations (BOSO) and the Student Activities and Organizations Office (SAO).

- Publicity is not to be released until an Activity Planning Form has been granted FINAL approval. Activities requiring a travel roster prior to approval, however, are allowed to advertise for participant sign up.

- Posters and signs may be displayed in specified areas within buildings and on the campus, provided that clearance has been obtained from the appropriate people in the following offices:
  - Purdue Memorial Union (PMU) and Stewart Center (STEW): the scheduling office in the Union.
  - Residence halls: Student Orgs will need to bring 1 flyer per hall (21) to Smalley Center for approval and distribution.
  - All other buildings: the building deputy or director whose office is located in that building.
  - Campus grounds: Space Management (Jaylene Nichols, 494-3900)

- Printed material may be distributed in buildings only if permission has been obtained from the building deputy or director. Printed material may be distributed on campus grounds provided that the rights of individuals are not violated, and there is no interference with the flow of traffic and the orderly operation of the University.

- RSOs and/or individuals involved will be held responsible for the improper posting of signs and materials that result in damaging or defacement of property. Furthermore, groups and/or individuals involved will be subject to conduct sanctions (including the issuance of a letter of warning), and will also be required to cover the removal cost of materials, resulting damages, and replacement of property, if applicable.

- Tables are provided in STEW and PMU for promotional projects by RSOs. Such tables may be reserved in the PMU scheduling office. When collections or solicitations of money are to be made, an event form must be initiated through the online BoilerLink system.
University Concert Guidelines

Any concert to take place under the supervision of a registered student organization must be registered via Boilerlink at least 90 days in advance regardless of the artist.

All guidelines set forth by SAO should be followed at all times. These can be found here: https://www.purdue.edu/sao/documents/purdue-concert-guide.pdf

Direct Student Email or Data Request

The policy that guides the Direct Student Email or Data Request process, is a joint policy with the Office of the Registrar and the Student Activities and Organizations Office. Please review the entire Release of Information to Student Organizations document BEFORE submitting a request.

If the activity requires an activity form to be completed, the event must be approved before this request will be processed. Every request takes a minimum of 7 business days to fulfill. Each organization can only request to use this service 1 time per semester. Please note that direct student emails will not be sent out during finals week and when classes are not in session. You cannot use this service for call outs of any kind.

The use of this option by a student organization must be only one part of any marketing plan to share information for your student organization. Your organization must utilize other methods to promote what you are sending to just the selected population.

Path Moving Forward

Frame of Reference

The Fraternity, Sorority, and Cooperative Life (FSCL) Leadership Team at Purdue University is committed to providing a safe, healthy, and successful environment for our members. The collaborative relationship between our community and the university is mutually beneficial and supportive. In 2017, members within fraternities and sororities across the country were responsible for incidents that caused physical, mental, and emotional harm, including death. These events have ignited a conversation about our current culture and potential changes that must be made. The future of Fraternity, Sorority and Cooperative life is being scrutinized on a more intense level than ever before, and the Purdue community must adjust accordingly in this critical time period.

On campuses across the nation, Greek communities have received mandated action from either their governing councils or their university officials. Many of these universities’ Fraternity and Sorority life are similar in structure to our own, such as Florida State University (FSU Plan), Iowa State University (ISU Procedures), Louisiana State University (LSU Plan), University of Michigan (UM Suspension), and Texas State University (TSU Plan) among many others. Multiple National / International Fraternities, many of which are on our campus, have created action plans and revised processes, including Alpha Kappa Lambda (Alpha Kappa Lambda Plan), Beta Theta Pi (Beta Theta Pi Strategic Plan), Phi Kappa Psi (Phi Kappa Psi Plan), Sigma Alpha Epsilon (Sigma Alpha Epsilon Plan), and Sigma Chi (Sigma Chi Plan). Additionally, multiple states are now considering and discussing strengthened hazing legislation. The North-American Interfraternity Conference (NIC) has developed an initiative to create changes in the fraternity industry and to reframe priorities (NIC 2.0).

The call for change is apparent in fraternity and sorority communities across the country, Purdue included. Not only do we need to evolve with the national industry and Headquarters expectations, but we need to evolve to ensure the safety of our members. In Purdue’s 2017-18 school year thus far, there have been a total of 30 organizations that have been sanctioned for health and safety violations across all 5 councils, and 2 organizations have been suspended. Universities across the country, the Big Ten, and Purdue are discussing the Fraternity, Sorority and Cooperative experience on a more detailed level than ever before. In the spirit of self-governance and with full support from our alumnae, advisers, and the university, the Purdue FSCL community is fully capable of creating long lasting and impactful change.
Expectations

The rich tradition and history of Fraternity, Sorority, and Cooperative life at Purdue has enriched the lives of students for over a century. Our advisers, alumnae, and the university value our contributions to the community, and consistently help us to create a better developmental experience for our members. In order to remain prosperous and transparent, the following seven points were identified by the FSCL leadership team, chapters, houses, and Purdue University as necessary and beneficial. Moving forward, these must be implemented and enforced for our community to thrive.

● No person, member, or guest should be harmed physically, mentally, or emotionally
  ○ Eliminating the presence of hard alcohol and hazing activities from chapter and house events and / or facilities is critical in protecting our members’ safety. The majority of incidents resulting in injury to our members and / or guests are directly related to alcohol abuse or hazing. The wellbeing of our brothers, sisters, siblings, and guests will continue to be the top priority.

● A reduction in high risk events and activities
  ○ We will reduce the number of high risk events, as well as the level of risks present at these events. These events present additional hazards, increasing the chances of a guest getting hurt. Events with water slides, flammable substances, and dangerous structures are all examples of risky activities and environments. The examples given are by no means extensive, but are perhaps most common for the Purdue community.
  ○ The BYOB movement has been established in national and local policies for decades, and is expected to be operationalized in the Fall of 2018 for the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Association. The Multicultural Greek Council, National Pan-Hellenic Council, and Purdue Cooperative Council are expected to be working towards adopting similar practices and procedures in the future.
  ○ All organizations are responsible for communicating expectations of health and safety procedures to members and guests.

● If any person needs help, it should be provided without question or fear
  ○ Purdue University offers medical amnesty to students seeking medical attention, for both the students calling and the student receiving help, known locally as “MAKING THE CALL”. This applies to individual students and events sponsored by a Recognized Student Organization. The University policy was modeled after the Indiana Lifeline Law to help ensure students’ safety (Purdue Amnesty Policy).
○ If a Student Organization is involved in the incident, the willingness to “MAKE THE CALL” will serve as a mitigating circumstance. Therefore, seeking medical help as soon as it is needed will only benefit our FSCL chapters and houses.

○ FSCL members and guests should contact emergency medical personnel without hesitation. The amnesty policy applies to all organizations in our community. Never be afraid to “MAKE THE CALL”, wherever you are!

- An increase in personal responsibility and accountability
  ○ Our years here at Purdue are a time for learning and growth, and we believe the FSCL community enhances that opportunity. This does not excuse reckless behavior. When we joined our organizations, we committed to holding ourselves and each other to a higher standard.
  ○ Holding our brothers, sisters, and siblings accountable is no easy task, but it is what we have promised to do. This is what results in some of the greatest learning and personal growth, and it is a disservice to ourselves and each other when we fail to do so.
  ○ Each of the five councils within Purdue FSCL operate under a self-governance model, where peers hold each other accountable at a chapter level. When an individual makes dangerous decisions, it is the responsibility of chapter leadership to hold those individuals accountable. If a member disregards the expectations their organization sets, it is up to the chapter leadership to act accordingly.

- An increased prioritization of student success and community engagement
  ○ First and foremost we are here to obtain a valuable education. There will be a renewed emphasis on achieving success in the classroom.
  ○ It is expected that members are civically engaged through service and supporting philanthropic causes. Our community is devoted to bettering each other, Purdue University, and the greater West Lafayette community.

- An increase in alumni and adviser involvement
  ○ In order to successfully execute the necessary changes our community needs, chapters must be supported. Engaging and utilizing alumnae and advisers on a local and national level is critical to the success and longevity of these changes.
  ○ Volunteers, alumnae, and advisers should serve as a coach, mentor, and problem solver for chapter leadership. Having a support system that is accessible and able to provide valuable oversight for our student leaders is essential as we move forward.
  ○ Purdue University has dedicated resources towards identifying and providing additional alumni and volunteer support for our organizations.
● Organizational environment dictates outcome
  ○ As members of Purdue FSCL, we have a great choice on the environments we create and place ourselves in. We must foster a positive, supportive, and inclusive environment for all members and guests. Differences among each other should be celebrated.
  ○ Having respectful interactions between members and guests in academic and social situations is expected. Organization events should be one of the safest environments on Purdue’s campus for our members and guests.
  ○ Making healthy choices with ongoing consent from all parties involved is essential.

Oversight

Our goal is to inform our stakeholders in a proactive way to continue our vibrant and sustainable membership. This Path Forward vision our community has does not require new policies to be written, but requires an operational change. These are changes that will protect the self-governance of our individual chapters/houses and governing councils. We have had great success through past years with our self-governance structure, and we are looking to further build upon it. We realize action needs to be taken to ensure the longevity of our community.

There are endless amount of resources here on our campus to assist in these transitions. We will create informed stakeholders, such as Potential New Members and Headquarters, through more intentional marketing and communication. We can adjust to operational changes by engaging chapter and Purdue FSCL advisers. The University provides us with multiple resources that are at our disposal to promote a positive college experience (Purdue Resources). We have a beneficial and ongoing partnership between our chapters, houses, and the University. The support we receive

- PHA will move towards a more transparent experience, starting with financial information and membership expectations.
- PHA will increase National / International Headquarters stakeholders engagement and communication through regular calls and updates.
- PHA will increase connections and utilization of alumnae / alumni resources provided and assisted by the Purdue Alumni Association.

Purdue Cooperative Council (PCC):
- PCC will continue to promote health and safety amongst our members by putting an emphasis on health and safety rather than rules and regulations.
- PCC will work with the entire FSCL staff and student leadership team to ensure each member has everything they need to be successful and well informed.
- PCC will see that communication within the community is strengthened, ensuring that anyone’s questions or concerns about anything will be heard and addressed.
- PCC will increase growing the alumni network to bring more people back to support the community to show current members how Cooperative Housing can positively affect someone’s future.
- PCC will remain an affordable living option for students who are academically, philanthropy, and community focused.
- PCC will not risk their community by recruiting anyone who does not fit the above standards and qualities.
from these stakeholders is vital to the success of our community, and our individual members. We know the changes we need to make, and we have the resources and support needed to make them. The future success of our community is not determined by our words, but by our actions.

<td>Those with dominant themes in the Executing domain know how to make things happen. When the team needs someone to implement a solution, these are the people who will work tirelessly to get it done. Those with a strength to execute have the ability to “catch” an idea and make it a reality.</td>
<td>Those with dominant themes in the Influencing domain help their team reach a much broader audience. These individuals can sell the team’s ideas inside and outside the organization. When the team needs someone to take charge, speak up, and make sure the group is heard, look to someone with the strength to influence.</td>
<td>Those with dominant themes in the Relationship Building domain can provide the essential glue to hold a team together. Without these strengths on a team, in many cases, the group is simply a composite of individuals. In contrast, team members with exceptional Relationship Building strength have the unique ability to help the group become much greater than the sum of its parts.</td>
<td>Those with dominant Strategic Thinking themes are the ones who keep the team focused on what could be. They are constantly absorbing and analyzing information and helping the team make better decisions. People with strength in this domain continually stretch the team’s thinking for the future.</td>
