

PURDUE OWL

SUPPORT FOR GRADUATE WRITERS

- One-on-One Writing Consultations
 Work with a trained writing consultant on any document from any discipline.
 Sign up for in-person or virtual sessions.
 Meet with a tutor for 30-45 minutes up to three times per week in our Krach Leadership Center location or visit one of our satellite locations.
- Special Programming
 Participate in programming developed specifically for graduate students and their writing.
- OWL (Online Writing Lab)
 Look over handouts, workshops, and vidcasts on writing-related and graduate writing topics.
- Consultations for Instructors
 Collaborate with Writing Lab staff to incorporate writing into disciplinary coursework.
- Support for International Students
 Practice spoken English by attending weekly conversation groups.

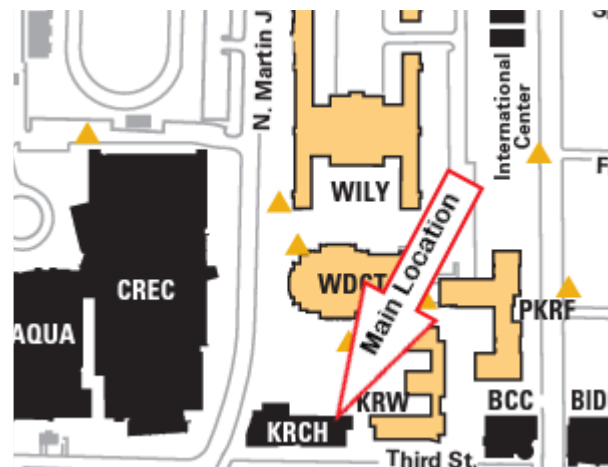

On-Campus Writing Lab

Krach Leadership Center, 2nd Floor
 1198 Third Street
 West Lafayette, IN 47907-2038

owl.purdue.edu
 (765) 494-3723

MAKING AN APPOINTMENT

For current hours and locations, visit <https://owl.purdue.edu>

Make an appointment online:
<https://cla.purdue.edu/wlschedule>

GET THE MOST OUT OF CONSULTATIONS

- Receive one-on-one feedback on any document: abstracts, conference proposals, presentations, assignments, dissertations, personal statements, articles, job materials, grant applications, and more.
- Work on any part of a document: ideas, organization, paragraphs, sentences, and more.
- Work at any stage of the process: starting the project, writing a rough draft, improving an existing draft, or polishing a final draft.
- Bring relevant materials: submission guidelines, notes, drafts, and questions.
- Prepare to join in the conversation; tutors are not editors or proofreaders.
- Discuss your writing task, and decide what you want to focus on.