Alicia's nominator wrote:

In addition to going above and beyond in her graduate coursework, Alicia is also a mother to three children who she supports endlessly.

Alicia is teaching three courses this fall semester, and also works on the Round table Perspective. (Collegiate television program produced by students and faculty of the Department of Communication and Creative Arts at Purdue Northwest).

In her courses, she strives to find innovative ways to create a safe space for her students to succeed, and genuinely cares about supporting them.

On the Round table Perspective, she works to ensure diverse issues are covered, diverse voices are heard, and leads a team with strength and kindness.

Way to go, Alicia!
