BASIC INFORMATION
Meetings: Fridays, 2:30-3:30
Coordinator: Dan Foti, Ph.D.
Location: Pierce 277
Email: foti@purdue.edu

Goals: The broad aims of our weekly clinical colloquium are to meet as an area to present and hear empirical research and learn about contemporary issues in clinical psychological science.

Expectations: Students are required to present their first-year project, at least one other empirical project, and one clinical case during their time in the program. All students are also strongly encouraged to give at least one presentation every academic year (e.g., a practice conference talk).

Attendance: Weekly attendance is required. Planned absences (e.g., religious holiday, conference travel) should be negotiated with me as far in advance as possible.

Evaluations: Students will be graded (pass/fail) on their attendance and participation in colloquium each semester.

Non-Discrimination: Purdue is committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters tolerance, sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among its members; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her own potential. Discrimination against anyone on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin, political preferences, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, disability, or status as a veteran is prohibited and may result in your dismissal from colloquium or a failing course grade.
