

On behalf of the Office of the Dean of Students, it is with great pleasure that I inform you that Rebecca (Becca) Logsdon, PhD student, in Agricultural & Biological Engineering and Ecological Sciences & Engineering Interdisciplinary Program and Stephanie Nitschmann, Senior, majoring in Psychology are the recipients of the 2014 France A. Córdova Award for Leadership in Action. As recipients of this award they will be recognized at commencement, the Student Activities and Organizations Awards Reception, and receive a certificate and a cash award of $2,300 and $500 respectively. They have been informed and they will be presented the award on Tuesday, April 22, 2014 at the SAO Awards Presentation in PMU North Ballroom at 5:00pm.