Faculty Leaders

Prof. Mike Dana, HLA, (dana@purdue.edu) office 494-5923, mobile 765-337-4844

Collin Schnakenberg, History graduate student (cschnak@purdue.edu)

Prof. John Larson, History, (larsonjl@purdue.edu) office 494-4127

Learning Objectives

- Experiencing real life in England, a truly inter-cultural experience
- Understanding English cultural, scientific and economic history through the lens of the English landscape; agrarian, ornamental gardens & parks, and urban/suburban
- Gaining an appreciation for a society that places a high value on protection of open space, the cultivation of ornamental plants and the design of functional, yet beautiful landscapes as an aspect of the "everyday" environment in which people work and play;
- Promoting awareness of a wide range of plants, some not well known in North America and some of North American origin, but introduced to England as exotics;

Itinerary

Tentative itinerary includes 21 days in England, 2 travel days and 2 days of introductory lectures at Purdue. (see tentative itinerary at the end of this document).

There will be a couple of required evening sessions during Spring Semester for purposes of background preparation and safety and security.

Projected (estimated) 2020 costs

Purdue Study Abroad Fee (no tuition is charged)	$304.70*
Airfare (estimated)	$1400.00
Program fee (estimated)	$3200.00*
Out of pocket expenses (estimated)	$1000.00
Ballpark estimated total	$5900.00 +/-

*Amounts paid directly to Purdue. Program fee estimate is based on expected enrollment of 15 students. Fee may increase or decrease slightly if enrollment is below or above expectations.

Course Application Process

Apply online through Purdue Study Abroad website at:

<https://www.studyabroad.purdue.edu/programs/search.cfm>

Use the search engine for Course #. Search for SA 21237

That will get you to the In the English Landscape page.

Find Click here to enroll in this program and click it to log in. Complete the form to apply to the program.

Following application, you will receive an acceptance notice with lots of information on your next steps. They'll include submitting a copy of your passport, or beginning your passport application if you do not have one. A $500 (non-refundable) deposit is required to hold your space in the program. It will be due upon acceptance and should be paid on-line through MyPurdue. Various forms relating to medical history, consent and responsibility must also be completed and submitted. All these submissions are electronic, on-line.

There is essential help available in the office of International Programs in Agriculture, room 26 AGAD. Kara Hartman, 494-8458 (kjkohlha@purdue.edu) is the study abroad person in that office. Contact her for details or if you have questions after your initial on-line sign-up.

PRIORITY APPLICATION DATE: December 1, 2019

Course Registration for Summer 2020

At registration time after the first of the year, when you can register for summer 2020 courses, you will need to register for SA 21237. Then, upon completion of the program, you will have the opportunity to select how you want the credits listed on your record, as HIST 45000, HORT 45000, or LA 45000.

Paying for In the English Landscape

Aside from the deposit to hold your place in the program, payment of the program fee will be due in the spring, a few weeks prior to the beginning of Summer School Module 1 (Maymester). You will need to purchase your airline ticket ($1000-1500) however, well before that, generally early in the second semester.

Financial Aid

This course qualifies for most student financial aid. See a Division of Financial Aid (DFA) advisor about your specific situation. However, to receive financial aid for the summer session, you must enroll for a minimum of six (6) credits (3 more in addition to the 3 you will earn for In the English Landscape). Three on-line credits may be a way to get this done from home or a work/internship location. If you have maxed out your financial aid, the additional cost of study abroad may increase your eligibility.

Scholarships

Many students are eligible to receive a $1000-2500 Purdue University Study Abroad Scholarship to support your participation in this program. You must have a FAFSA on file with DFA, and your parent's annual income must be less than $175,000.

All College of Agriculture students are eligible for scholarships administered through the Office of Academic Programs. They are generally several hundred dollars, and are quite competitive, so apply early.

Your home department may offer study abroad scholarship support. Inquire with your advisor, student services office or department head. Some departments may not have "standing" scholarship programs for study abroad participants, but persistence on the part of a student can sometimes result in a special, one-time award.

Scholarships specific to Horticulture & Landscape Architecture students

A substantial, but limited number of departmental study abroad scholarships are available to HLA students. The award will be $1000. To apply for HLA departmental support, you must be accepted into In the English Landscape, have paid your deposit, and then write a 1-2 page essay describing your motivation and goals for your study abroad experience. Submit the essay to the HLA Student Services Office. The early-bird deadline for application is December 1, 2019. The final deadline is February 1, 2020, but by that time, all funds may have been awarded.

Other important items of interest

You'll need a Passport!

Fees: First-time applicants: $145 fee, renewal is less. Passport costs are borne by student. IPIA will assist you with the application process if you have questions AND they provide FREE photos taken right in their office (room 26 AGAD).

Information for passport applicants can be found at:

<https://travel.state.gov/content/passports/en/passports/apply.html>

International Student ID card – not required and not included in program fee

International Student Visa requirements – Depending on your country of citizenship, you may be required to obtain a visa to travel to the UK. Consult with Kara Hartman about this and if you will need a visa APPLY IMMEDIATELY. Delays can occur so do not procrastinate.

Medical Insurance – required and included in program fee

Travel to and from London

Professor Dana and Collin Schnakenberg will fly direct Chicago O-Hare (ORD) to London Heathrow (LHR) on Wednesday, May 20, arriving in London the morning of May 21. Students are invited to fly with the instructors, but are not required to do so. We will coordinate ticketing when that time comes, but everyone will buy their own ticket.

If you make flight arrangements independently and fly separately, there will be two requirements.

- Your flight must be scheduled to arrive at London, Heathrow (LHR) at least one hour prior to the instructor's flight.
- You may not leave West Lafayette on Tuesday May 19, 2020 (second full day of class) until 5:00 pm, at the conclusion of the class day.

Arrangements for transport to an airport, and return to WL will be made once it becomes clear who is flying from where to where and when. The cost of such transfers will be out of pocket and are not built into the course fee.

Other Optional Activities – These are things we may do as a subset of the group or that you may elect to do on your own. We regard them as potentially excellent additions to your “England experience.” Think about them and we’ll discuss.

A day trip to Bath (Romans Baths, Jane Austen, famous Georgian architecture)

Urban growth patterns / architecture walking tour of London

A night at a London theater in the West End (their Broadway)*

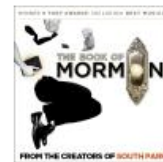

A Shakespeare play performed at the recreated Globe Theater, very near the site of the original Globe in 1600*

* Require advance purchase of tickets which we will coordinate
