

Hello all,

The June Hunting Lists have now been released and are ready for download here:

A little progress report: we have received over 1000 photos so far! We are working hard to make sure that every photo is uploaded to the Consortium of Midwest Herbaria website. We appreciate the response so far and are looking forward to seeing more submissions as different species come into flower!

We will also soon be making some updates to the Scavenger Hunt website, which will include featured photo submissions, so stay tuned for more news on that.

As always, let me know if you have any questions or concerns - I'm happy to help.
