"As a family, we look forward to weekly pickups at the student farm -- everyone gets involved in sorting, tasting and preparing a wide range of foods each week. The assortment in the box provides us with our usual staples while encouraging us to try new fruits and vegetables. We couldn't be happier with the service, experience and opportunity to support the Student Farm."

Aaron Thompson

Associate Professor of Landscape Architecture

"The Purdue Student Farm CSA provided us with an amazing assortment of fresh veggies every week. The variety was incredible. From one week to the next, we might get poblano peppers, Thai basil, bok choy, delicious heirloom tomatoes, Japanese eggplants, fresh ginger root, kale, microgreens, apples and so much more! And picking it up was a breeze."
