NAECC FROM 1:00PM - 3:00PM

WHAT CAN THE PURDUE OWL HELP YOU WITH?

Thousands of Purdue students, especially good writers, come to the OWL because they know it's useful to talk about what they're writing and to get some feedback. Writers bring in papers from courses in biology, engineering, political science, technology, communications, and many other courses besides English. They also come in to work on resumes and job applications, internship and co-op reports, or any other writing task they're working on, including papers for graduate seminars.

We help Purdue students, faculty, staff and even those learning English as a second language.

PURDUE FEDERAL WORK STUDY PROGRAM

Federal Work-Study (FWS) is a form of financial aid that provides funding for on and off-campus jobs. It allows students to earn money to help pay for education expenses, potentially reducing their need for loans. The program is designed so that FWS funds and the student's employer share in paying the student's wages. Students gain valuable work experience, build professional skills, and explore career paths while earning money to support their education.

More Information

1. Eligibility:

To qualify for the Federal Work-Study Program, you must be a Purdue student enrolled at least half-time, demonstrate financial need through the FAFSA, and be offered a Federal Work-Study award by the Division of Financial Aid.

2. How to Apply:

To apply for the Federal Work-Study Program, accept your FWS award in the myPurdue portal. Search for job opportunities at <https://www.cco.purdue.edu/Students/FederalWorkStudy>

3. Payment

Students receive bi-weekly paychecks for their work. Earnings can be used for day-to-day expenses and are not applied directly to tuition bills.
