

Holiday Hosting Opportunity

Purdue is host to one of the largest populations of international students in the U.S. Many of them are living on campus and choose not to make the trip back home to visit their families over winter break. For some, this season is the loneliest time of year. This December, would you consider hosting a student or two in your home, perhaps for a holiday dinner, activity or community event? If you are interested, contact International Programs at friendship@purdue.edu by December 13 and you will be matched with an interested student. Please list your name, title, department, e-mail address and phone number, as well as how many students you would be interested in hosting.

With Sincere Appreciation,

Michael A. Brzezinski
Dean, International Programs
