STATISTICS FACULTY AND STAFF

AWARDS
Michael Zhu
Professor

Michael is being honored for his leadership in organizing the newly developed Distinguished Theme Seminar Series (DTSS) for the past two years. The DTSS has been a valuable internal and external avenue for valuable learning, discussions, and collaboration.
Chuanhai is being recognized for his contributions to the statistics profession in advancing knowledge in statistical modeling. His development of the inferential model framework is simply the latest in a long history of valuable innovations in the field.
Patti Foster
Senior Administrative Assistant

Patti is being honored for her outstanding support and positive, proactive approach to assisting faculty and graduate students. This is especially for her continued positive attitude under a very trying time for the department, during which she has always put the needs and mental health of our graduate students first.
Jianxi Su
Assistant Professor

Jianxi is being honored for his creation of a welcoming campus environment for faculty, staff, and students, notably in the Actuarial Science Program. Additionally, his enthusiastic service on the department's Diversity & Inclusion Committee demonstrates a genuine commitment to this essential component of our department's atmosphere.
Bruce Craig
Professor

Bruce is being recognized for his leadership in improving functioning and efficiency for the Department, and consequently the College. As Associate Head, his invaluable supervision of our faculty and staff was crucial to maintaining our teaching, mentoring, and research goals during an unprecedented transitional period with both a new Head and new modes of teaching and working.
CONGRATULATIONS

Thank you to all of our honorees for your persistent efforts to create a culture of respect, inclusion, innovation and growth.

We appreciate you!
