BEST STUDENT EXPERIENCE

Over the past year, I have had the opportunity to be an undergraduate research assistant with an accounting professor on tax research. It was very gratifying to see principles learned in the classroom being applied in the 'real-world' settings.

MOST CHALLENGING

The most challenging aspect of returning to college was learning how to study and balancing life with the demands of my coursework. I found that by staying organized and practicing a daily routine with a set time to do coursework was far better than trying to rely on motivation. Motivation comes and goes, but when I had a set time every day doing my work became automatic.

NEXT UP

I will start work as a tax associate at BKD this summer in Indianapolis and hope to complete the CPA exam by this fall.

WORDS OF ADVICE

Believe in yourself. There are always going to be people or even your own thoughts that say you are too old, life is just too hectic, or you missed your chance to go to college. Yet, you have to persevere through that noise and take a chance on yourself.
