Curious why something works the way that it does? Interested in learning the process of discovery? Want to investigate or create something that isn’t known or created yet?

The Purdue Office of Undergraduate Research seeks FIRST-YEAR INVESTIGATORS

The First-Year Investigators Program is for new Purdue students who are curious about how something is discovered or created but not sure how to start their own Purdue research journey.

If the 2022-2023 year is your first year as a Purdue student and you have not had a research experience and do not plan to have one in spring 2023, you are invited to apply!

Space is available for first-year students to apply! Applications due November 18 at 11:59pm via OURConnect

FOR MORE INFO AND TO APPLY

1. Go to the Purdue OUR website
2. On the top menu, click “Students”
3. Select “First-Year Program”

If you are not a first-year student or a current or past undergrad researcher, consider applying to participate in the FYI Program as a peer mentor!
