Up to 50% of dogs are reported to suffer from separation anxiety, and up to 49% reported to suffer from noise aversion. Both conditions may present a welfare issue for the affected dog and negatively impact the quality of life of both dog and owner. Izzy’s case will be presented as an example of the challenges of accurately diagnosing and treating these behavior problems. One (1) Continuing Education (CE) credit is offered for this seminar.